OLOF HANSON PROTESTS IN COMMONS GOVERNMENT ENABLED TO CHANGE RADIO COMMISSION

Broadcast Commission To Continue; General Manager Authorized

Legislation is Enacted in House of Commons at Ottawa Along Lines Proposed by Committee—Changes May be Made

OTTAWA, June 29: (CP)—While steps taken in the House of Commons today would continue the Canadian Broadcasting Commission for another year, the way was left open for the government to appoint a general manager of broadcasting as recommended by the House of Commons committee on radio if it so desires. In such a case the present radio commission, it is said, would function somewhat as directors until the end of the year.

Canadian Sailors Replace Crews of New England Schooners

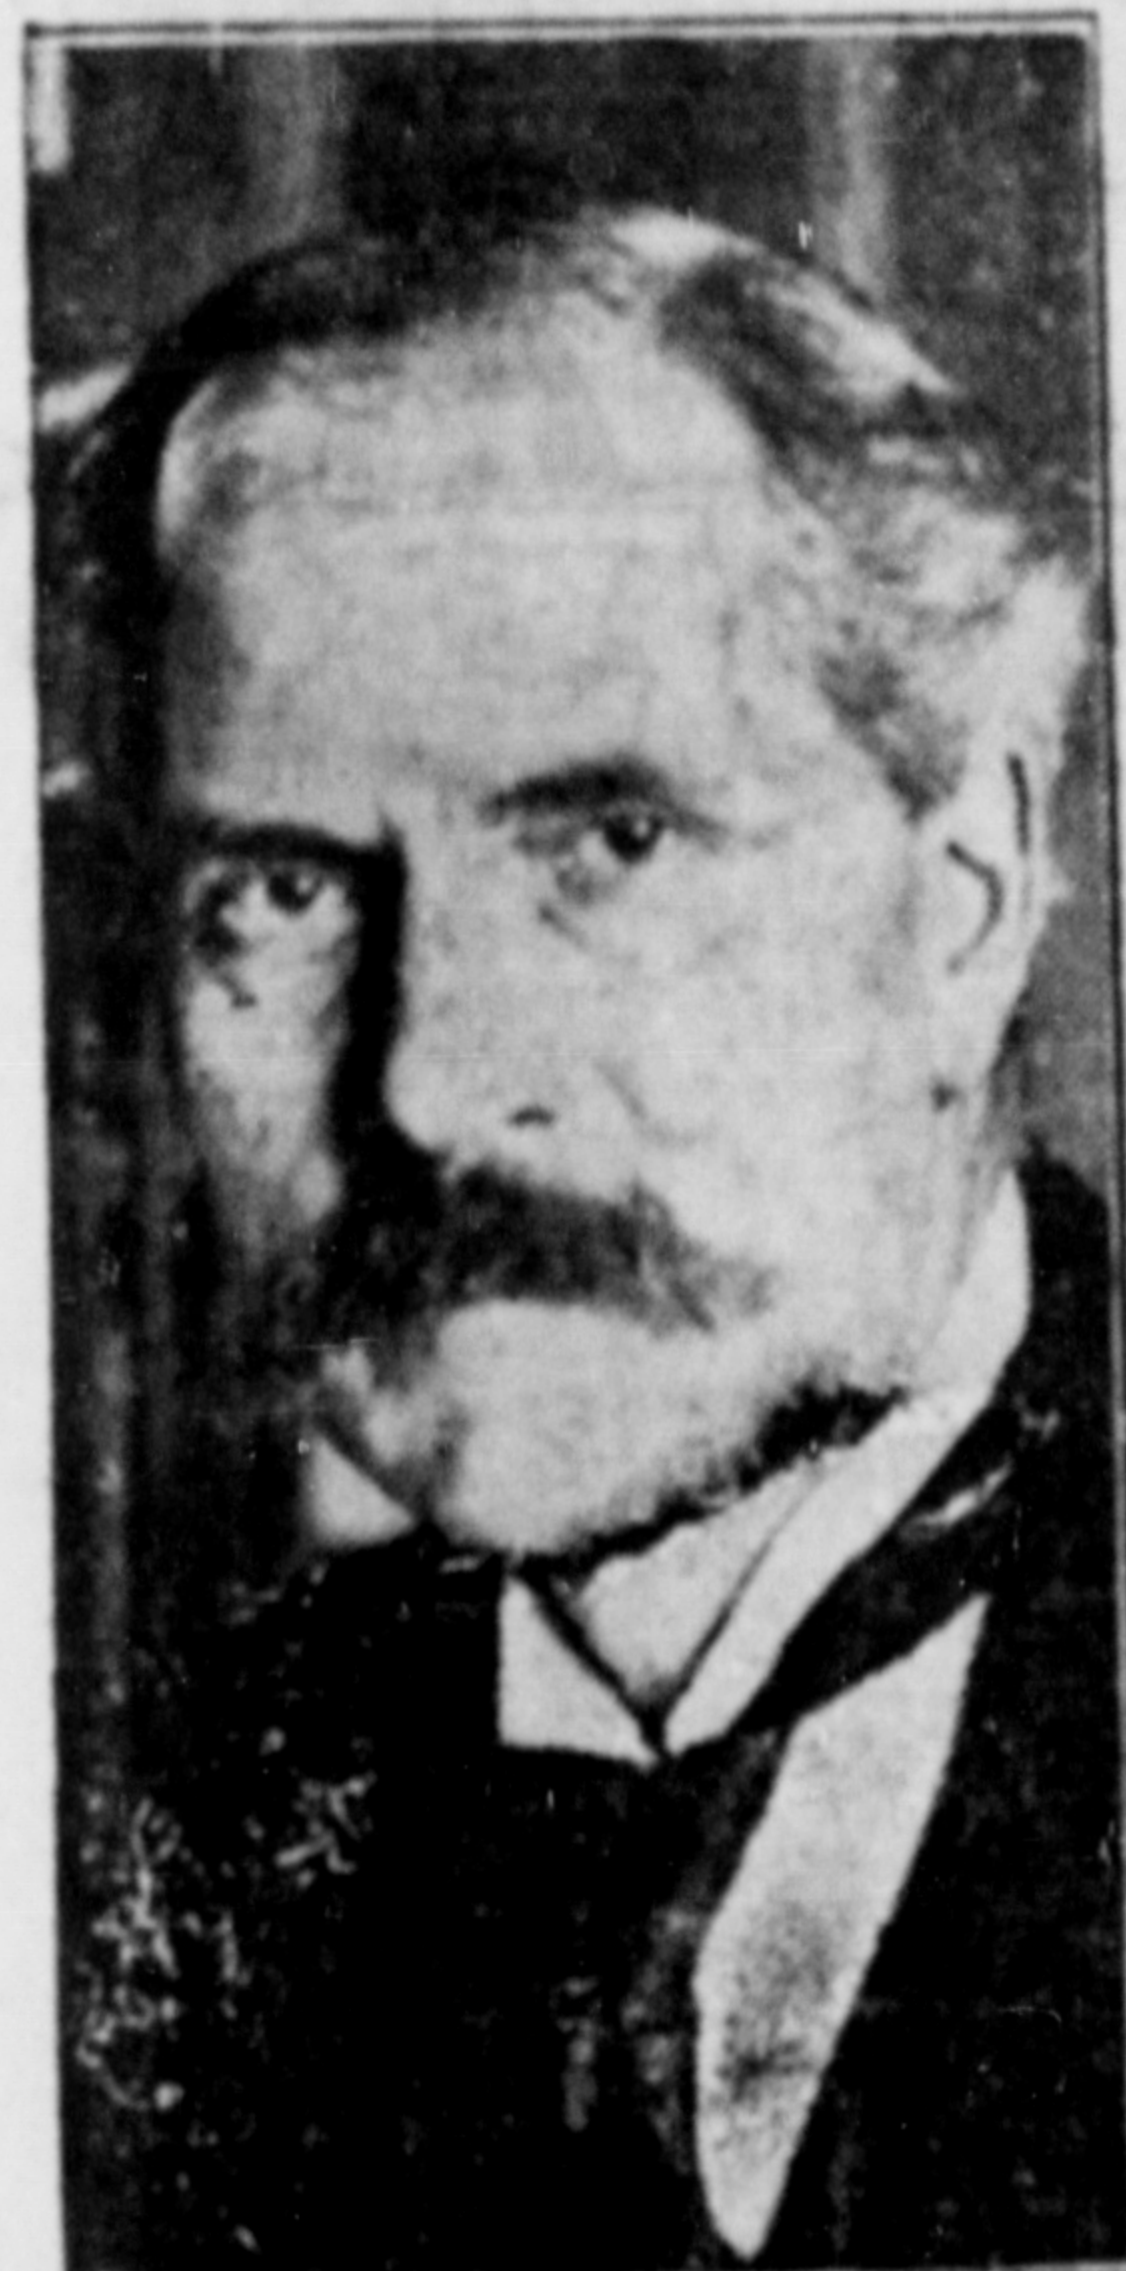

When the Gertrude L. Thebaud docked in New York on a trip to encourage the sail of fish, her skipper, Captain Jimmy Abbott, revealed that his boat, from Gloucester, Mass., had an all-British crew of sailors from Nova Scotia and Newfoundland. He lamented the fact that sailors are disappearing from the shores of New England and are being replaced by these "foreign" crews. The Thebaud is the boat that has several times challenged Nova Scotia's famous Bluenose to race for the fishing schooner championship of the North Atlantic. Only once has she ever been able to beat the Bluenose, and that in an exhibition race. The layout shows (left), the Bluenose, (right), the Gertrude L. Thebaud, (centre), Captain Abbott, and (top), fishermen hauling in nets off the Grand Banks. Abbott stated that sailing vessels are the only means yet of successful fishing these waters.

This District Entirely Ignored In Work Plans, Local Member Declares

Describes Federal Building Here as Shack Which Government Continues to Rent Although Entirely Unfit

OTTAWA, June 29: (CP)—During discussion in the House of Commons on the government's public works relief program, Olof Hanson, M.P. for Skeena, said: "North and Central British Columbia has been entirely ignored by the program and it is unreasonable to suggest or even hope that men in Northern British Columbia will benefit from works undertaken in Vancouver and southern parts of the province. The public building in Prince Rupert is a shack and not fit to be called a government building. Yet the government continues to pay rent for it."

ROSE SHOW ON JULY 18

Exhibit Will be Staged in Store Formerly Occupied by Goldbloom On Third Avenue

NINE CLASSES PLANNED

Small Prizes to be Given For Best Blooms and For Best Bowl Of Pansies

At a meeting of the executive of the Prince Rupert Horticultural Association in the City Hall yesterday afternoon, it was decided to hold the first annual rose and flower show on July 18 in the store on Third Avenue formerly occupied by William Goldbloom. This is being donated free of charge for the purpose by the owner, Max Heilbroner.

While the show will feature roses, exhibits of all kinds of flowers will be welcomed either for competition in the various classes or as a complimentary exhibit not for competition. It is planned to make as good a showing as possible.

The date set is at a time when an Alaska tourist boat will be in the city and it is probable a number of the visitors will take in the show. The admission fee will be only ten cents for adults or children. All first prizes will be $1.50 and second prizes 50c, the aim being not to make the money prizes large but to encourage people to exhibit for the purpose of creating an interest in flowers and particularly in roses. ### Building Boom in England And Depression Rapidly Passing As People All Cheerfully Optimistic

After the depression and despondency in the United States it was a great contrast to visit England where everybody was busy and optimistic and full of hope and cheer, according to Colonel J. W. Nicholls who told the Rotary Club at luncheon yesterday of impressions gained during a recent visit to Europe. He said he met people of all classes and discussed conditions with members of Parliament, Conservative and Labor, with bankers, contractors and all sorts and conditions of people and all were a unit in declaring that conditions were greatly improved. In fact they were experiencing a building boom throughout the country and this put thousands of people in employment.

In London there was a three weeks' waiting list at some of the hotels and at some of the hotel dining rooms people were waiting in queues. The city was crowded with tourists, mostly from the Dominions.

As evidence of the returning prosperity, Colonel Nicholls spoke of the transportation system in London. The underground railway, trams and busses had been amalgamated by Act of Parliament a few years ago, thus creating a great monopoly which had been decidedly beneficial both to the public and to the shareholders in the London Transport Company. Now all the busses were being rebuilt and diesel engines installed and it was estimated that the sum of $5,000 would be saved on the operation of each bus in the course of a year. The railways of the country were showing surprising results. While
