Mr. Croll did not reveal the name of the company or the terms.

Weather is exceptionally wintry in Calgary. On the Medicine Hat-Calgary highway fourteen-foot drifts of snow have blocked all traffic.

Max Heilbronner, who returned to the city yesterday from a trip to Rochester, Minn., where he went to obtain surgical treatment at Mayo Clinic, was in Butte, Mont., about 100 miles from Helena, on the night of the earthquake which wrecked Helena. While the tremor was quite perceptible at Butte, it did not do much damage there although a chimney or so were reported to have toppled over. There was a dull reverberation and the effect was quite sickening.

Mr. Heilbronner's health seems to be much improved as a result of the treatment which he received while away. He reports that, owing to the increased price of copper, the city of Butte, where the Anaconda Copper Co. has large mines, is taking on new life with properties which have been closed down for some time reopening. The place, like elsewhere in the United States, however, is not without labor troubles.

Mr. Heilbronner observed that the working people of the United States seemed to be supporting President Roosevelt in his "New Deal" program. Big business interests, however, seem to be opposed to the Rooseveltian policies.

PULP MILL PROGRESS

Construction Will Start This Fall Or Winter, it is Expected

City Commissioner W. J. Alder has received a delayed letter from F. L. Buckley indicating that good progress is being made with the pulp mill project and there is a probability of construction starting this fall or winter and being pushed ahead.

Mr. Buckley says it has been definitely decided to make it a 250-ton high grade bleached sulphite pulp mill suitable for the manufacture of rayon and other high grade products and they are rushing everything. He says he has been at the job night and day and as soon as he returns from the east he will come to Prince Rupert.

That there have been delays is admitted but Mr. Buckley says that all matters including power are pretty well straightened out. He still expects to get started on construction this fall or winter and, as soon as it does commence, it will be pushed hard.

Mr. Buckley is at present in the east.

Private Advice
A local contracting concern received word by mail yesterday from Vancouver to the effect that Mr. Buckley had stated that all negotiations had been completed and that a start on construction of the pulp mill might be expected about the first of the year.

Fierce Fighting

LONDON, Oct. 31: (CP)—Fierce fighting has been going on daily in an isolated section of the Eritrean front, southeast of Setit River where Ethiopians are massed in great strength, with heavy machine gun equipment.

Rome reports said yesterday that the Ethiopians had been repulsed by airplanes which dropped bombs and raked them with machine gunfire.

Forty thousand Ethiopian troops were reported last night to be on the march to the mountain region intent of dislodging the Italian invaders who are concentrated there and driving them back into Eritrea. The Italian forces there are estimated to number some 50,000.

On the northern front the Italians are now ready, it is reported, for their push towards Makale and the command expects slight resistance. The Italian objective is to cut off the railway from Addis Abawa to French Somaliland.
