PRINCE RUPERT PLAYS ITS PART IN CELEBRATING JUBILEE

Great Demonstration Of Loyalty to King Is Joined in By All

Thousands of Citizens Took Part in Ceremonies and Festivities Yesterday—Monster Parade Was One Of Outstanding Features of Day

Prince Rupert forsook all normal activity yesterday to join the rest of the British Empire in celebration and rejoicing on the occasion of the Silver Jubilee of the accession to the Throne of King George V and Queen Mary. Thousands of citizens joined wholeheartedly and loyally to make of it a gala day and the festivities will long be remembered for the magnitude and enthusiasm which attended them.

Everything favored the day. Weather was delightful with sparkling sunlight and clear blue skies. Well organized arrangements for the many features of the proceedings went off without a hitch. There was fun and enjoyment for old and young alike. Certain impressive formalities and ceremonies were also observed so that the prime cause of the demonstration might not be lost sight of in the general festivities.

Promptly at the appointed hour in the morning, the great parade with its many novel floats and features lined up for a length of several city blocks. This was one of the greatest undertakings of its kind ever essayed in Prince Rupert and the whole town was out to see it. Numerous were the favorable comments to be heard. Certainly a great deal of ingenuity and hard work had been involved in the preparations for the street display.

Before the starting of the parade, a brief patriotic service was conducted by Rt. Rev. G. A. Rix D.D., Bishop of Caledonia, at the junction of First, Second and Third Avenues. The service included a brief address, prayer and the singing of "God Save the King."

Leading the parade was Sergeant G. H. Greenwood, chief of the city detachment of the provincial police, and guard of four officers. Then came the fire department, detachment of Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve under Lieut. L. H. Haworth, the Prince Rupert Boys' Band, official cars of City Commissioner W. J. Alder, accompanied by Inspector J. A. Fraser, provincial police, and Bishop Rix and Government Agent Norman A. Watt, Sea Cadets under Petty Officer Instructor Ross, Wolf Cubs, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Brownies, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, war veterans, members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, school children in a wide variety of national costumes depicting various parts of the Empire, and fraternal orders, after which came the floats, decorated cars and novelties.

Long Line of March
The line of march was along Second Avenue and Eighth Street to McBride Street, up McBride to Sixth, along Sixth to Hays Cove Circle, along Fifth Avenue back to McBride Street, down McBride, up Third Avenue to Seventh Street and along Second Avenue to the old Court House square where the parade dismissed.

Before the parade dismissed, there was an impressive ceremony by the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve. This was the firing of a Royal Salute (Feu-de-Joie) in honor of the King and it was executed with smartness and precision under direction of Lieut. Haworth.

Volleys were fired and, between each, a line of the National Anthem was sung with the Boys' Band accompanying.

The task of the judges—W. H. Tobey, C. H. Orme and Norman A. Watt—in determining the procession winners was no easy one. Finally the following selections were announced:

British Empire, Japanese Association, Industrial—Forestry Department, Provincial Government, Commercial (Merchants or Individual), Annette's, From an advertising standpoint—Imperial Oil Limited, Fraternal—B. P. O. Elks, Comic (four or more)—The Basking Shark, Pram, decorated—Patsy Moore and Sonny Boulter, Bicycle and Attendant, decorated—Bill Brown, Jr., School Children, National Costume—Canada, Individual, Clown or Comic—Spark Plug, Jack McLean, Car, business, decorated, P. Burns & Company, Car, Private, decorated—C. J. Norrington, Not classified—Canadian National Recreation Association, Medical Association, Special mention—Model Yachts and Gyro Club (S. J. Jabour).

Afternoon Program
Possibly the largest crowd that ever assembled on Acropolis Hill Grounds was in attendance for the afternoon program which included general sports, dancing exhibition and a baseball game. It is estimated 1500 were in attendance.

In the evening, a Jubilee beacon was kindled on Acropolis Hill by the Boy Scouts, proving quite a spectacle for a time.

Largely attended dances took place in the evening at the Moose Hall and the Armory.

The citizens generally entered into the spirit of the occasion and it was few premises that did not have some kind of special decoration.

The Court House was particularly attractive both by day and night. E. O. Aves having been in charge of the decoration of that edifice.

Jack Preece was general chairman of the celebration with George W. Cripps, general secretary-treasurer, Committee chairmen were: parade, Fred Wesch; finance, F. A. MacCallum; sports, Tom Elliott; dance, G. P. Lyons; publicity, D. G. Borland.

SENATE FOR BONUS PLAN

Vinson Bill With Amendment Providing For Payment of Two Billion Dollars Approved

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 7.—By a vote of 56 to 23 and over the attack of Pat Harrison, who advocated his compromise measure which has the endorsement of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Senate at the week-end approved the Vinson veterans' bonus bill after it had been amended by Senator Thomas of Oklahoma to provide for the immediate cash payment of $2,263,000,000.

Whether the Vinson bill will actually be adopted by Congress in stead of the Harrison compromise plan is now the subject of speculation. It is declared that the President would certainly veto the Vinson bill.

PIONEER IS DEAD

Prince Rupert Mourns Loss of Well Known Citizen in Person of Frank W. Hart

Well known pioneer of many British Columbia communities and resident of the province for fifty-eight years except for a time that he spent in Alaska and the Klondyke during the Gold Rush days, Frank W. Hart passed away at his home here at 10:30 Saturday night following a lengthy illness from which it had been realized for some weeks there could be no hope of recovery. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon.

Born in Rock Island, Ill., the late Mr. Hart would have been 79 years of age had he lived until June 1 next. He came to British Columbia in 1877 and established himself in business in Vancouver.

After having been in the Yukon and southern interior, in 1908 Mr. Hart was attracted to Prince Rupert, the latest British Columbia frontier town. He established a large furniture, hardware and undertaking business here. During the last fifteen or twenty years he devoted himself more to his realty interests, being the owner of considerable business and residential property here. For the past year or so he had been in gradually failing health.

Mr. Hart is survived by his widow who will have the deep sympathy of many friends not only in Prince Rupert but throughout the province.

Scenes of Brilliance, Enthusiasm and Majesty in Old London—King Addresses His People Throughout World, Dedicating Himself Anew to Their Service

LONDON, May 7: (CP)—"God Save the King," uttered as with one voice by his subjects in a vast outpouring of loyalty, heartened King George V yesterday as he began the twenty-fifth year of his reign. Monday night the voice of the sovereign was heard around the Empire as, in words which betrayed his emotion at the mightiness of the tribute which had been accorded him, he said: "I dedicate myself anew to your service in the years that may still be given to me."

Under the canopy of a cloudless blue sky, millions of Britons along a four mile route in London accorded the King and Queen a triumphal Jubilee celebration. From Buckingham Palace to St. Paul's Cathedral there was a parade of unsurpassed brilliance, enthusiasm and majesty.

In prayers at St. Paul's Cathedral, the King knelt short while others had risen as though to express special thanksgiving. The King and Queen appeared twice on the balcony of Buckingham Palace after the procession. After the ceremonies, the King changed from royal robes to a plain grey suit. The Queen wore a silver gown under her cloak.

More than two hundred thousand people milled around Buckingham Palace again at night and gave up roars of applause when the King and Queen appeared again. With one great voice they sang: "God Save the King."

During the day Communists attempted a counter-demonstration but the loyalists quickly seized their banners, tore them to shreds and dispersed the demonstrators.
