Police Claim B.C., Trekkers Made Weapons in Regina

Constable Don Taylor, 24-year-old police detective who went from Winnipeg to Regina to investigate relief camp strikers' activities, joined their organizations and stayed with them from June 19 to 28, swore in R.C.M.P. court at Regina that strikers made clubs during their stay at the Regina stadium prior to the riots in that city. He was testifying at the trial of six strike leaders facing court on charges arising from the fighting which cost the life of a police detective. Mounted police claimed to have found the home-made clubs and weapons shown above hidden at various places in the exhibition buildings after the striking groups had left Regina.

Highway Extension and Improvement-Are Now In Progress In Many Parts Of Widespread North

Giving employment to fully five hundred men in this engineering district which takes in Prince! Rupert, Atlin, Omineca, Skeena and part of Mackenzie ridings, the provincial government's new road work program is now well under way in Central and Northern British Columbia. In Prince Rupert district alone some one hundred men are being given work. The policy of the department is to confine the employment to local men of the districts.

Thirty men are now working from Cloyah Bay camp on the gravelling and surfacing of the Sneena River Highway this side of Cloyah and on the extension of the grading in the other direction towards Taylor Lake, R. A. Mc-Leod is foreman of the work.

Quite extensive work is being done on the Graham Island Marine Drive between Port Clements and Queen Charlotte City including the much-needed diversion of

In Skeena district work is being carried out on the continuation of highway construction between Usk and Hazelton while improvements are being made on roads around Terrace and that cection of the highway between Telkwa and Hazelton.

In Omineca district considerable work is now in progress on the main highway as well as northward from Vanderhoof towards Manson Creek.

The program in Atlin district includes improvements to the Missouri and elsewhere in Portland Canal. At Alice Arm the Dolly Varden mining road is being improved. Further north in Atlin district necessary work is also being carried on.
