LETTER FROM C. C. F. COMMITTEE

Editor, Daily News:—

With reference to your Smithers report re "Talking of Elections," insinuating that there was a movement on foot to change the C. C. F. nominee of the Skeena Federal riding.

We would like to say, Mr. Editor, that our opposition are early begun with their inuendoes and falsehoods. Apparently the wish is father to the thought, and probably our C. C. F. nominee J. E. Panter is also a little too popular for our opposition.

The public of Skeena riding can rest assured that there is absolutely no truth in the report published in your paper of June 25, and as far as the C. C. F. being on the wane, as your correspondent would have us believe, well, election day will prove the falsity of the forecast.

Signed on behalf of the committee.

J. S. BLACK, Secy.

Federal Election Committee of the C. C. F., Prince Rupert.

FINAL GASP FOR LIFE

Editor, Daily News:—

There can be little doubt but that a deliberate attempt is being made in Eastern Canada to engineer an idea that a "National Government" is the only cure for all our troubles and that the formation of a party supporting such a government is the only solution of all our perplexities. If the active promoters of the idea could be induced to tell the public who they are and why they want a National Government, and what they expect it to do, it would I think be found to be composed principally of active Conservatives belonging to that wing of the party which has hitherto made the policies for the party, and while it has been in power has governed the country in keeping with their idea of what was desirable. These gentlemen know they are going to lose control of the country, with a strong likelihood that they will also lose control of the Conservative party, and they look with fear to a long and perhaps permanent exclusion from office and power. When they talk about National Government they mean a fusion between what has been the governing elements of the Conservative party and the entire membership of the Liberal party.

In consideration of this display of patriotism the Liberals would be given their share of offices and the perquisites thereof. In return for this consideration they would be expected to subscribe to the policies and methods of the new existing government, a government which even its warmest supporters know to be on the point of death.

The National Government drive is an attempt to continue the policies which have been disastrous to this country. It is proposed to continue the campaign against the Canadian National Railway which began on the day the Bennett government took office, and has continued to this day to be an essential part of the Conservative program. It proposes to continue the monstrously high tariff structure erected during the past five years, and we imagine that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association is behind the movement.

The government that replaces the present government, if the character of its personnel and the courage and wisdom of its policies meet the opportunity that the hour offers, will be a national government in the true sense of the term—as being one dedicated to truly national policies and commanding strong support from every section of the country and from every element in the population.

There will be agreement that there should be a sinking of differences and a subordination of personal and party interests to the end that Canada may have the chance of such a government, and the rallying of the electors to effect this purpose will take place on election day in the polling booths.

"White Parade" Saga of Girls No One Knows

New Lasky Production Offers First Picture of Student Nurses

The final scenes of this ambitious Jesse L. Lasky-Fox Film production, covering both the opening and closing sequences of the picture, were spectacular and impressive. Several hundred white-uniformed girls paraded up a ramp, eyes riveted on a cross in the distance, symbolizing the unending parade of America's young women who dedicate their lives to careers of self-sacrifice and service to humanity.

Studio observers, and other interested spectators, declaring it was one of the most compelling mass-scenes ever filmed.

"The White Parade," besides its strong entertainment value, its heart throbs, pathos and laughter, glorifies the profession of nursing, and stands as a graphic tribute to the country's "young ladies in white," numbering more than 200,000. The picture is laid in a modern training school for nurses, and is the first film produced on this phase of the profession.

Heading the cast are Loretta Young and John Boles. Miss Young is said to give the finest performance of her career in this picture.

"The White Parade" is dedicated to the memory of Florence Nightingale, founder of modern nursing, and the picture has received the endorsement of the American Nurses' Association.

Saw Himself In War Picture At Local Theatre

Poincare, during the Great War, handed Cambrai back to the French mayor after the famous engagement in which Mr. Grimsson took part.
