FARMERS AND THE C. C. F.

We have been told again and again by the C. C. F. lead- interest in this field, Ian Eisen-H ers that it is not the proposal of the party in the event of hardt, provincial director of re- a practical way, then the gymnatheir getting control of the government to interfere with the farmers. Now comes Professor King Gordon, C. C. Who are we to believe?

Will British Columbia farmers be content to have their of a proper balance between mental holdings confiscated just as the Karluks were disposses- and physical education. sed in Russia? It seems that it is all part of the plan, no America was not behind the rest matter what local advocates may say to the contrary.

UNEMPLOYED SITUATION

During the campaign prior to the election of the Pat- mental. He felt that education was tullo administration, it was made very clear to the elec- far from complete if one was made tors that the program of work and wages which Mr. Pat- mentally fit and left physically untullo proposed was to come through co-operation with the 1t. federal government. Every possible effort was made to secure that co-operation but Premier Bennett was adamant. He refused to do anything to relieve the situation. He listened carefully and sympathetically to Mr. Pattullo's pleas for a policy which would have made Canada Mr. Eisenhardt expressed the op- establish would build up a real of improvement of the playground

Now Mr. Bennett comes forward and asks the people established in Prince Rupert in young men and women. They would McBride Street to make it adapof this province to send him back to Ottawa to sit tight existing premises without first go- find and make friends and be table for use as a field for junior for another five years during which time he will, if necessary, continue to hand out the dole to people who are looking for work. He refuses to recognize the claims of the workers for remunerative employment.

ROADS AND UNEMPLOYED

One way in which unemployment could be lessened very considerably would be by putting in force a bold policy of highway construction. There is the completion! of the all-Canada highway east of Winnipeg and the completion of the highway through Central British Columbia from Prince Rupert to Jasper. Mr. Pattullo's suggestion is that the national credit should be used to finance these projects. The Bennett government having failed to take any action, the people of the province have no hope but to turn to the only other party capable of doing anything to relieve the situation. That party is the one led by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.
