"Evensong," romantic picture of an opera singer's career, at the Capitol Theatre this mid-week, presents in its leading role that glamorous artist of stage and screen, the lovely Evelyn Laye.

The British production is executed on a lavish scale, the period of the story extending over the first quarter of the present century.

A notable cast supports Miss Laye. Chief among them is the seasoned character actor, Fritz Kortner, who plays with authority and conviction the role of the prima donna's manager.

One of the most important roles is played by the world-famous coloratura soprano, Mme. Conchita Supervia.

Alice Delysia-noted star of the musical comedy stage; Carl Esmond, handsome and highly popular juvenile; Emlyn Williams, wellaccredited in dramatic roles, and Arthur Sinclair, old favorite character man-are also noted in the carefully chosen cast.

"Evensong" presents a number of scenes showing some of the most noted rendezvous of Europe including Monte Carlo and Venice.

"St. Louis K'd" second nicture on the mid-week double bill; combines riotous comedy with melodramatic thrills. James Cagney is starred, the supporting cast including Patricia Ellis, Allan Jenkins. Hobart Cavanaugh, Spencer Charters, Dorothy Dare, Arthur Aylesworth and Robert Barrat.
