CUTTING DOWN EXPENSES

The Province of Ontario is planning to cut down expenses of government by eliminating the costly residence of the Lieutenant Governor and this has caused something of a furore in social circles. It is pointed out by the Toronto Star that similar action was taken in New Brunswick forty-three years ago when the official residence of the Lieutenant Governor was closed, the building being used today as headquarters for Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The Governor lives in his own home, wherever it may be, or rents a house temporarily at the capital.

Government House in any provincial capital is a social centre where the wealthy residents are invited to dinners and other social events, the general public being invited to an annual reception and members of patriotic orders to an occasional tea. It costs the provinces a great deal to keep up the building and there seems to be no corresponding advantage to the province as a whole. It is not a question of patriotism but of sound business ethics. What advantage is it to Prince Rupert to keep up the Government House in Victoria? None whatever! Mr. Fordham Johnson could carry out all the duties of his office just as well living in his home in Vancouver with an occasional sojourn at the Empress Hotel in the capital.

MONTREAL'S DRASTIC MOVE

Many people still have the idea that it is only in the west that there is a financial stringency and that Vancouver and Prince Rupert and a few other municipalities are the only ones in financial difficulties. Canada's largest city is one of the hardest hit of all. Montreal, with an estimated deficit of eight and a half million dollars, has taken the extreme measure of imposing a sales tax on all transactions within the city on amounts over ten cents. On a fifteen cent purchase one cent extra has to be paid and on 60c a two cent tax. There is two percent on all larger amounts. It is hoped to raise five million dollars from this source during the year and an additional three and a half million from income tax. These taxes are in addition to the federal sales tax and the federal and provincial income taxes. The only exemptions from the sales tax are beer, school books, gasoline and some food supplies.

NATIVES PROTEST

Editor, Daily News:—
We are informed that the provincial government will commence to impose taxation on the Indians this year. According to the British North America Act, the said government has no power whatever to enact laws or impose taxation on the Indians. Why should such acts as the British North America Act be made if our provincial government continually fails to recognize it? It seems that our governments are not satisfied with the advantages that they have already taken of the ignorance of the Indians.

WHIFFLETS

From the Waterfront

The Home Oil tanker Dinamac, which was here yesterday from Vancouver, is 72½ feet overall in length with 21-foot beam and loaded draft of eight feet. She is equipped with a 150 h.p. Ruston-Hornsby English diesel engine and has a speed of eight knots per hour. She has a cargo capacity of 20,000 gallons of gasoline, 5500 gallons of diesel oil and ten tons general cargo. The new vessel carries a crew of five men. W. E. Willis-croft of this city is mate, having joined the ship in Vancouver. The Dinamac will be operated largely out of Prince Rupert.

As is usual at this time of year, passenger traffic southbound from Alaska is very light. There were only twenty-three passengers on board the steamer Princess Norah which was in port yesterday afternoon bound from Skagway to Vancouver. Six disembarked from the vessel at this port while three boarded her here for Vancouver.

Bringing north a fair-sized list of passengers, C. N. R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Neil McLean, arrived in port on time at 10 o'clock this morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and will sail at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Anyox and Stewart whence she will return here tomorrow evening southbound.

The provincial police cruiser P. M. L. 8 returned to port yesterday afternoon from Humpback Bay, Porcher Island, where it went to investigate a fire there on Sunday last when five small cannery shacks were burned. The incident was inconsequential. A couple of Indians were living in the cabin. The plant will be operated this year only as a fish camp.

Mother's Day In Baptist Church

Sunday School in Charge of Interesting Service in Morning—
Rev. Dr. Dafoe Speaker

The Sunday School, under Superintendent P. H. Linzey, who presided, was responsible for an interesting Mother's Day service at First Baptist Church Sunday morning. An outstanding feature was the presentation by six pupils of a "Message to Mothers" written by Mrs. F. W. Grimble. There were special songs and prayers. Miss Amy Armstrong recited "Vespers" and Miss Zelda Hale, "A Mother's Prayer." The subject of the pastor, Rev. Dr. F. W. Dafoe, was "Mother Love." L. Knutson and P. Knutson were ushers.

At evening service the subject of the pastor was "The Story of a Mother's Love." There was special music including the singing of a Mother's Day song written by the organist, W. Vaughan Davies.
