WHIFFLETS

From the Waterfront

With a cargo of fuel oil for the company's local tanks, Imperial Oil Co.'s tanker Albertolite, Capt. Mosher, arrived in port at 9 o'clock yesterday morning from Ioco and, after discharging, sailed last evening for San Pedro. Capt. Larry Thomson was aboard the Albertolite as pilot.

Tanker Dinamac, Capt. James McCulloch, being operated in connection with the Home Oil Distributors Ltd., arrived in port Saturday night from Vancouver with fuel cargo and sailed yesterday for the company's station at North Island.

Powell River Co.'s big towboat St. Faith, Capt. Landheim, on the way from the Queen Charlotte Islands to mainland pulp and paper mills with a tow of logs, which she left at Captain's Cove while coming in, called yesterday to take on fuel here.

Coast freighter Berwin, Capt. Whiteworth, arrived in port yesterday morning from Vancouver with general cargo, including coal an dexplosives, for local delivery.

The Ketchikan motorship Evelyn Berg, Capt. Allan Fulmer, arrived in port at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Ketchikan and, after discharging one carload of frozen fish for transshipment east over Canadian National Railways, sailed for Seattle.

HOW SHALL WE EXPRESS OUR THANKS?

Mrs. Davis is good enough to write us that she has used Pacific Milk a long time and finds it the best milk she has ever tried.

"It is always handy and very convenient on picnics and summer holidays," she adds.

Many thanks. How can we show you our appreciation for a letter like this?

DEMONSTRATIONS AND MOB VIOLENCE

serve their own interests and a continuation of the present system.

"Why I, as a reformer, fighting against money power and considered a 'menace' by the monied interests, should be so bitterly attacked by those who profess to have the interests of the people at heart is more than I can understand," declared the mayor. However, he would continue the fight, he declared, as long as he lived and was permitted to do so and could be trusted to be a leader in financial and currency reform if elected to the House of Commons. That was why he was being denounced, he declared, by the monied interests.

"Money power and capitalism are attacking constitutional democracy," Mr. McGeer declared, adding that "it is not beyond the limit of possibility that international money power is taking an active part in communist agitation."

In the course of his address, Mayor McGeer placed the blame for recent clashes in department stores and on the streets of the city squarely upon the relief camp strikers. Police officers, he declared, had been misused and, even yet, one officer (Inspector Tuley) was still in hospital and his recovery was a matter of doubt. Possibly, he (the mayor) had erred in restraining the police as he had done but, by doing so, he had, he believed, saved the strikers from injury. However, the word of the leaders of the strikers had been proven to be no good. They had made undertakings and promises and had not adhered to them. The leaders of the strike, some of whom he charged with having had long crime records, had prevented strikers who wished to return to the camps from doing so. Under all the circumstances, the time had arrived for a showdown and demonstrations and mob violence, he made it clear, would no longer be tolerated.

Barbara Hutton And Her Count In Gotham Now

NEW YORK, May 27:—The Court and Countess Kurt Haugwitz Reventlow, married recently in Reno following the divorce of the latter (formerly Barbara Hutton) from Prince Alexis Mdivani, have just arrived here from the west. They will leave shortly for Europe and may live in Paris instead of Denmark from which country the Count hails.

PICTURE IS GLAMOROUS

Constance Bennett Star of "Outcast Lady," Odd Story on Screen Of Capitol Theatre

Stunningly photographed, exquisitely gowned and fitted with a highly emotional and sensitive role, Constance Bennett is the star of "Outcast Lady," first of the week feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here. The picture has an undercurrent of excitement and glamor such as are usually typical of Bennett plays.

In a story involving an engrossing matrimonial problem laid against a background of English society, Miss Bennett is the innocent victim of scandalous tongues which cause her to pursue a career totally foreign to her own desires and nature. With the world turning its back upon her, she fights to retain her self-respect but the wreckage of her life leaves a bitter mark upon the man she loves as well as upon the members of her family. The action encompasses a wide variety of European backgrounds and scenes which shift from light humor to the darkest of tragic moments.

The male lead is taken by Herbert Marshall in the role of the man who is estranged from Miss Bennett owing to the restrictions held over him by his father. The part is a quite difficult one which is handled competently by Marshall. Others in the supporting cast include Mrs. Patrick Campbell, Elizabeth Allan, Henry Stephenson and Ralph Forbes.
