EAST AND WEST

The Victoria Times in a recent editorial article says: "In a few days the British Columbia government will broadcast through the press of Eastern Canada an advertisement setting out the position and the disabilities of this province in the constitutional and economic structure of Confederation. We do not know what the government intends to say, or how it will affect the people of the east, but the need of enlightenment down there is obvious. Probably it will take some time, considerable vigor and not a little patience to tell our story to our partners in Confederation, but at least we are making a start."

"The balance of trade between us and the east is entirely in the east's favor. The balance of mutual understanding is just as strongly in ours. Most British Columbians came themselves from the east or their parents did. They have memories of Ontario that go back often to days before Confederation, and family associations that date from United Empire Loyalist times. But the Eastern Canadians of today who have crossed the prairies is relatively small. To the average easterners the country west of the Rockies is far less familiar than the states to the south of them."

"The resulting ignorance of our conditions and problems here is almost beyond belief. The British Columbians visiting Toronto or Montreal is invariably astounded by it. As Premier Pattullo has frequently said, the attitude of the larger interests in the east seems to be that British Columbia is a mendicant asking for a hand-out. It is time the east understood that the position is quite the opposite. The giving has been largely on our part. The east has always stood at the receiving end."

"By one of the ironies of Canada's lop-sided trading policy, our position in relation to the east gets worse as general conditions get better. For example, according to figures just issued by the B.C. Economic Council, we bought from Eastern Canada in the four years, 1930-1933 inclusive, goods to the value of $285,823,682 and sold only $66,364,759 worth—or a balance against this province of $219,458,923! As prosperity returns, of course, the margin against us—which has been gradually dropping during the four years in question—will rise again unless the existing tariff structure undergoes a substantial modification."

"It will be understood that to bridge the wide gap between our sales to Eastern Canada and our purchases from Eastern Canada we must sell enormous quantities of our own goods in world markets at low prices. But even this has been insufficient to counterbalance our losses in the markets of Canada. We have constantly incurred a net unfavorable balance on our total trade—1930-1933 we had a debit balance on our combined external and internal trade of $100,229,557—and this we have had to make up by borrowing. That means that we have had to borrow money in the east to buy back the east's goods at high prices."

"If the east is wise it will listen to the reasonable complaints of a good customer."

FINAL GAME OF SOCCER

Competition For Rochester Shield Ends With Match Between Borden and High

The Junior Football Association brings the 1934-1935 season to a close tomorrow evening when Borden and High Schools meet in a play-off for the Rochester Shield.

The teams this season have been very evenly matched and all the games have been closely fought out. The first half found High School on top but on the resumption of the spring half Borden revealed a winning combination that has brought them to the top.

Booth have also shown improvement and in their last game won from High but a couple of defeats by Borden early on put them out of the running.

The play-off tomorrow evening should result in a big turn-out of football enthusiasts generally. Both schools will have their supporters out in force, and the grownups will get a real thrill out of watching a keenly contested game with no quarter asked for or given and with the finest spirit shown. Sport in the city in the future is assured when the school boys display such a spirit.

SPORT CHAT

Peter McWilliam is all ready to return to the football club he likes best—Tottenham Hotspurs. The Spurs want him to lead them back to the first division, but there is an extraordinary hitch. The Arsenal club refuses to release McWilliam from his post of advisor—a relatively minor job.

Contrary to the general belief that leading competitive golf players do little or no teaching, it is a fact that Olin Dutra, 1934 United States open champion, has averaged 1,000 hours of teaching a year since turning professional. Olin not only likes instructing, but it pays.

Hubert Opperman, famous Australian cyclist, has arrived in London with a singular ambition. He intends holding every British road record on a single bicycle by the end of 1935. That is his idea of conquering Britain. Then he intends taking on the United States.

The name of Harold Gimblett, 18-year old farm boy of Watchet, a Somerset village, has been added to cricket's scroll of fame. Playing for his county against Essex recently in his first match in senior cricket, young Gimblett scored 123 runs in 63 minutes. And the best part of the story is that he was chosen for his bowling.

Judge Landis, autoer of the baseball world, has decreed that Alabama Pitt, the ex-convict is to be allowed to take part in professional baseball games.

Japs to Play At Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, June 18: (CP)—The six Japanese players touring the United States and Canada this season are entered in the $5,000 General Brock golf tournament to be played July 11-13 at the Lookout Point club. The little men from the Orient have teamed to beat some strong teams of professionals and they face United States and Canadian teams of six here.

FIRST TEST CRICKET IS DRAW GAME

England Fails to Win Against South Africa Result of Rain At Nottingham

NOTTINGHAM, Eng., June 18: (CP)—With victory almost certain England had to be content with a draw against South Africa in the first of five cricket test matches which concluded here today.

An overnight rain necessitated the abandonment of the final day's play the score ending with England, 384 for seven wickets, declared, and South Africa, 220 in the first innings and 17 runs for one wicket in the second.

Cricket Shivers

LONDON, June 18—The few enthusiasts of England's national pastime who were present at The Oval recently could hardly believe their eyes when they saw hot coffee served on the field to the Surrey and Warwickshire cricket teams. The weather was bitterly cold and the players preferred coffee to lemonade.

Foot Race Betting

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, June 18: (CP)—Wagering on foot racing is a popular sport here—or it was. The other day the crowd was told that I. Tomagno was winner of a 75-yard handicap sprint, and the bookmakers paid off on that. But W. J. Booth actually won the race and the booth barker was just out of luck. The bookies were not paying off twice.

LUCY ISD. CONTESTS

Watts' Grocery Staff Picnic Held Sunday When Sports and Games Held

Some interesting sports took place at Lucy Island Sunday when Watts' Grocery held their annual picnic, the staff, their wives and friends being the guests of William Watts, proprietor. They went out on the Salvage boat Daily, leaving the dock about nine in the morning and returning at an hour before midnight.

The beach at the island was in splendid condition for sports, so a number of games were arranged. At softball, Watts' Grocery staff beat Thrift Cash & Carry but in the tug-of-war the tables were turned, the cash and carry developing the best pulling power.

In wrestling, Fred Hardy won against George Peters and in boxing, one of the most spectacular events of the day, Miss Lillian Lowe knocked out Bill Rance and was declared the winner.

The whole event was a most enjoyable one. Refreshments were served at suitable intervals by the camp fire. The staff is now adorned with a coat of tan that will not come off for a few days at least.
