NEWS OF THE MINES

Dunwell to Resume Shipments of Ore—Possibility Of Anyox Being Turned Over as Going Concern—Consolidated Report on District Properties.

Pending completion of negotiations whereby the Premier Gold Mining Co. may acquire the property, shipments of ore are about to commence from the Dunwell mine near Stewart. With shipment of ore on hand, it is believed that the increased price of silver will enable the company to pay up at least most of its current liabilities within sixty days. The continuation of operations at the Ben Ali from which the company realizes a profit of some forty percent will asist materially in realizing the immediate objective with respect to liabilities.

With five horses on snowshoes and six men, the Crawford Transfer Co. of Stewart succeeded recently in getting through to the Troy property and are now completing the second leg of a journey into the Salmon Gold with supplies and equipment for the resumption of diamond drilling operations.

It is authoritatively understood at Stewart that the Stapleton interests of New York have acquired an option on control of the Hercules property adjoining the Big Missouri on the northwest. Exercising of the option will, it is understood, be subject to examination this summer. Otherwise, no information is available with respect to intentions for the coming season.

The Mountain Boy Mining Co., operating property in the Portland Canal district, held its annual meeting recently in Montreal. The annual report of the company showed it to have a substantial cash balance of approximately $12,000 in the bank. In view of the fact that Mountain Boy took over its present holdings when silver was at a very much lower price than at present, acquiring adjacent property during the recent slump, it is expected that further development work will be undertaken during the present season. W. H. Tolin of Stewart, one of the directors of the company, says, however, that he is not in a position to say what program, if any, is contemplated, although he expects several of the principals of the company to be in Stewart about the middle of next month.

Gus Seiffert, who operated in the Portland Canal district some years ago and has for the past three years been in California, has, in association with eastern interests, acquired control of the Mineral Hill property, sometimes referred to as the Joker, adjoining the Big Missouri on the east. Mr. Seiffert will arrive in Stewart early in June to institute development work.

The presence in Anyox during the past month of two of the senior members of the technical staff of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. lends further weight to rumors that an offer of $4,000,000 made for Granby Co. properties came from Consolidated. It is freely stated here that Granby has some prospect of selling out Anyox as a going concern and that this may be accountable for the report that the company is delaying closing down at Anyox. The property would quickly deteriorate once it was closed down tight.

John Hepson was in Stewart a few days ago for supplies from the El Oro property on Bitter Creek on which he has been conducting development work throughout the winter. Mr. Hepson stated that he and his associates had completed forty feet of tunnel some time ago and since then had driven twenty feet of cross-cut to the north without contacting the wall although it was believed this would be done within the next round. In addition to this, they cross-cut six feet to the south, five of which was through a dike beyond which they again broke into ore. The ore, stated Mr. Hepson, was very promising but, until the cross-cutting is completed, it is not proposed to do any sampling.

In pursuance of the decision of Glacier Creek directors to let a contract for the driving of two hundred feet of tunnel south on the vein, instructions were received by the local office at Stewart recently to proceed immediately with the work. A contract has been let and the crew will be at work within the next few days.

The coming season will see the greatest activity in the Cassiar mining district in many years, according to Capt. Hill Barrington of the Barrington Transportation Co., who was in Prince Rupert recently going north for the season. Glen Hope and A. Marion, he stated, uncovered some very fine ore last winter in the McDames Creek area where important discoveries were made last season. A Seattle company was getting a bond on the property when Capt. Barrington left Seattle. The Anaconda Co. has taken over some property for investigation and August Buschmann is also interested in several projects. These are but a few of the monied interests which will investigate and develop Cassiar mining ground during the coming season.

In the course of his annual report to Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., W. M. Achibald, vice-president in charge of mines, has the following to say in regard to the Big Missoui property: "Development of this property was continued throughout the year. Further work from the Province level and diamond drilling above and below the level indicated a definite shoot of ore of commercial grade. An upraise was made from the Province tunnel to the surface, a distance of 623 feet, in the footwall of the indicated ore. Stations were cut at vertical distances of 150 feet and further development of the area above the level is proceeding. The Day group, adjoining Big Missouri on the west, was optioned and a drift to the Province level extended to the surface from which point a surface tramway was constructed to the portal of a new cross-cut tunnel. At the end of the year this lower tunnel had been extended 796 feet, with an objective of approximately 2400 feet to reach the propected positions of ore developed on the Province level. Advance has been better than three hundred feet per month." In his report, S. G. Blaylock, vice-president and general manager, had the following comment to make with respect to Big Missouri: "The gross value of gold in terms of dollars having increased about seventy-five percent with an untaxable increase of about fifty percent, the outlook for this property is much improved and a fairly extensive development program is being carried out. In addition to the increase in the value of gold, it has been possible to corelate certain apparently erratic gold values to indicate a reasonably definite ore shoot of fair value." In regard to northern placers, Mr. Archiabld reported that the result of the season's work in Atlin, Omineca and Cariboo districts was disappointing. At Boulder Creek in Atlin district a limited amount of bedrock gravels was sluiced and returned a value of $1.08 per cubic yard. Owing to the large amount of barrel material above these, the resultant value per yard was too low to warrant further hydraulicking. Some seven hundred feet of exploratory drifts were run in the lower gravels on or near bedrock in the hope of finding enriched areas. The gravel sluiced offered some promise of profitable drifting operation but no rich sections were exposed. Further exploration by drifting seems justified. In Slate and Manson Creek areas in the Omineca the dragline equipment did not handle the quantity of material expected and was unsuccessful in digging the bedrock gravels under water. A small production which contained some fairly coarse gold was evident below the dump box whenever bedrock gravels were reached. Investigations are now being made of auxiliary apparatus for removal of top gravels to lighten the work of the dragline and increase the quantity of bedrock gravels which may be washed in a season.

Jackson Booth, Noted Timber Magnate, Here, Accompanied By Wife and Son

C. Jackson Booth, prominent Canadian timber magnate and head of the well known firm of J. R. Booth Limited, was a noted visitor in Prince Rupert yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Booth and son, Raleigh, who is a student at Queen's University at Kingston. Mr. Booth is a son of the late John R. Booth and resides at Ottawa. They are making the round trip north aboard the steamer Prince Rupert and will be here again this evening on their way back to Vancouver from Anyox and Stewart.

While here yesterday, Mr. Booth visited with his old friend, Ex-Mayor H. B. Rochester. The two were next door neighbors in Ottawa as boys and attended school together.

From the Waterfront

Henceforth, vessels of the Union Steamship Co. will be operating again on normal schedules following the settlement of the seafarers' strike which held the company's ships in port for a week. The steamer Catala will be coming out of Vancouver as usual tomorrow evening, being due here Sunday night. There will be no sailing of the Cardena this week but the vessel will be back in service again next week, arriving from the south on Friday night.
