CANADA'S POSITION

The action of the Bennett government in making an pleted. announcement that Canada would not take part in any wars except where the rights of Canada were concerned gram were Don Brown, Bert Moris being criticized as being most untimely. Here were Bri- gan, H. Astori, J. Judge, A. Horn, tain and other European nations trying to prevent Italy J. s. wilson. c. L. Youngman, from going to war with Ethiopia when Canada speaks up chairman of the entertainment and says she is not with the rest of the Empire in trying committee, was a very efficient to prevent the outbreak. It looked almost like an act of chairman. treachery. It might have been all right to notify Britain privately that Canada would take no part but to make a public announcement was surely an encouragement to Italy to continue to defy the rest of the world.

Canada is at her own request a member of the League of Nations yet she is one of the first to shirk her responsibilities. Later she agreed to a limited application of sanctions.

McGEER AND HANSON

G. G. McGeer, one of the leaders of the Liberal party in this province, pledges himself to take the men off relief and give them work and wages. Other Liberal leaders have pledged themselves to the same thing. Hanson will support such a program. That is one good reason why everyone should support Olof Hanson in this campaign.

END RELIEF CAMPS

Philadelphia Premier Bennett was the man who introduced relief Boston camps into Canada. He is the man who is keeping people on the dole. In place of that Mackenzie King would give Old Country Soccer employment at reasonable wages.

Premier Bennett stands for high interest rates whereas the Liberals propose refunding at a just rate.

Liberals have led the way in encouraging trade with Britain and they propose to continue that policy without making the people pay huge taxes on everything they buy. Under the Conservative policy the west pays to make the east prosperous.

H. W. Walter, William Phillips and C. W. Matthews jr. of Pittsburg were passengers aboard the Princess Louise Wednesday afternoon bound south after a big game hunt to Kodiak Island. They had with them a bag of five of the famous Kodiak bears. Mr. Walter, Mr. Phillips and Mr. Matthews a couple of weeks ago passed through here enroute north, having arrived by train. They were later joined by Mr. Ferguson and a brother of Mr. Phillips.

Mr. Matthews specializes in archery and, by use of the bow and arrow, he hit three bears. He was able to capture only one, however, having pierced its heart.
