Two Men and Woman Are Victims Of Gas Following Christmas Eve Celebration

TORONTO, Dec. 27: (CP)-Believed to have been asphyxiated during a Christmas Eve celebration, bodies of two men and a woman were found today in a room of a Sherbourne Street rooming house. They were a Mr. and Mrs. Ingleson, aged about forty, and another unidentified man, about

Christmas Eve Quiet in City

Shopping Was Done Early This Year-Trade Up To Expectations

Due, undoubtedly, to Prince Rupert people having accepted the advice this year to shop early, the downtown Christmas Eve rush was possibly not quite as marked as usual. Christmas trade generally was reported by the most of merchants, however, to have been quite up to expectations.

The city was orderly and the police had no exceptional cases to deal with. There was a good deal of jollification but all of a goodnatured and harmless nature.
