This Deer Is Inseparable From Equine Friend

About six weeks ago this deer, a stray one, appeared on a farm at Grayrigg, Westmoreland, Eng. It was lame and promptly attached itself to an old mare. They are inseparable now, although the deer is quite well again. The deer runs away at the approach of humans, and this photo was obtained only with the aid of a telephoto lens.

WAS GREAT CONVENTION

General Evangiline Booth Draws Larger Crowd In Toronto Than Either Bennett Or King

Seventeen thousand persons, a larger crowd than attended election campaign meetings of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett and Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King on the two nights immediately following, thronged the great Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto when General Evangiline Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, gave a public address in connection with the recent Canadian Congress of the Army, it was stated this morning by Major Walter J. Carruthers, divisional commander for Alaska and Northern British Columbia, who is in the city today on his way back to his headquarters at Wrangell.

The general, youngest daughter of the late General William Booth, despite the fact that she will be seventy years of age on Christmas Day next, is remarkably active and eloquent. She spoke for seventy-five minutes and throughout that time the great audience sat in rapt attention.

Lieutenant Governor W. D. Bruce of Ontario presided over the meeting. During the Toronto Congress General Booth inaugurated an evangelistic campaign, the objective of which is a million converts in the world and 50,000 in Canada.

The Toronto Congress was the largest attended ever to be held in Canada. There were 1200 officers present from Bermuda to Alaska and over 50,000 persons attended the meetings.

The delegation from this district consisted of Major and Mrs. Carruthers, Adjutant Eva Laycock of Prince Rupert, Adjutant Alex Parkinson of Glen Vowell, and Capt. Charles Newton and Lieut. Richard Newton of Kake, Alaska.

Major Carruthers returned here a week ago and has since been on a trip to Canyon City to meet Naas River workers. Met by Mrs. Carruthers, who stayed a while in the East to visit relatives, he will proceed to Wrangell on the Princess Norah tonight.

Adjutant Laycock, local commandant, is at present visiting in Vancouver and is due back next week.

Adjutant Parkinson returned to Glen Vowell a week or ten days ago.

Capt. Charles and Lieut. Richard Newton, uncle and nephew, will

WHIFFLETS From the Waterfront

C. N. R. steamer Prince George, Capt. H. E. Nedden, arrived in port at 10:45 this morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and will sail at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Anyox and Stewart whence she will return here tomorrow evening southbound. The vessel brought in eastern mail, the first the city has had since last Tuesday night as a result of the tie-up on the railway. Mail is now being routed regularly to and from the east via Vancouver.

There was on sale of halibut on the local fish exchange yesterday, no boats being in with catches.

Several hours late, C. P. R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. William Palmer, is due in port at 6:30 this evening from Vancouver and will sail an hour later for Skagway and other northern points whence she is scheduled to return here next Sunday afternoon southbound. The Princess Norah was late in leaving Vancouver.

N. D. McFarlane, regularly a popular member of the engine room staff of the steamer Prince George, came north from Vancouver today to take charge aboard the steamer Prince Rupert which is tied up here for the winter.

be here aboard the Princess Norah tonight enroute back to Kake.

While in Toronto, the local delegation met General Booth who recalled a visit to the Yukon in 1899 when she was the commander of the Army forces in Canada. The delegation had a picture taken with the general as a memento of the occasion.

WHITHER BRITONS?

London Paper Says Entry Doors Of Empire Countries Are Closed

LONDON, October 30: (CP)—The weekly social paper Truth discusses "the bright idea that the British Empire should be shared out as a peace offering to the rest of the world but more especially to Fascists and Nazis" which the editor says, "has captured the imagination of the most eminent of our sloppy-minded sentimentalists."

"One strange illusion is revealed in nearly all the speeches, sermons and letters to the press on this subject," Truth continues, "Thanks to the Empire, it is implied, Britain is immune from economic distress and untroubled by any population problem. Unemployment and the distressed areas are forgotten and the fact that those evils have been greatly aggravated by the stoppage of emigration is ignored."

"For what are deemed to be good and sufficient reasons the self-governing Dominions have practically closed the door to new settlers and a much more serious obstacle to emigration from Europe—the United States now takes only severely restricted numbers. It is admitted that we cannot control the policy of the Dominions any more than that of the United States, but nevertheless there seems to be a hazy notion that we possess in colonies or protectorates undeveloped territories which would provide an outlet for the vast populations on this continent."

"It is a pity that those who talk this way do not tell us where (outside the Dominions) there are any undeveloped territories of the Empire which would be suitable for large-scale immigration from Europe."

"The position of the Dominions in this matter is illustrated by New Zealand's reception of Lord Bledisloe's scheme for land settlement there. It is recognized that the country could carry a much larger population if the world would buy more of its products at a remunerative price. But the supply is already more than equal to the demand, and New Zealand is naturally reluctant to encourage settlement without knowing how it can dispose of surplus products."

COMEDY AND MELODRAMA

"Alibi Ike" and "The Florentine Dagger" at Capitol Theatre Here

An hilarious Joe E. Brown comedy, "Alibi Ike," and a thrilling and baffling mystery melodrama, "The Florentine Dagger," are the feature offerings on a double bill program at the Capitol Theatre this mid-week.

"Alibi Ike" is the picturization of a Ring Lardner's comedy of baseball and blondes. The title character, portrayed by Brown, is a big league pitcher and batter whose average, contrary to most twirlers, runs around the 400 mark. He never makes a play on or off the field without alibiing. Even when he falls in love with the sister of the captain's wife, he alibis it. She hears him excusing himself for presenting her with an engagement ring and a series of thrilling and interesting events ensue. There is more romance than is usual in Brown pictures, the love affair winding up in an unusual climax. Olivia de Havilland, a new-comer to the screen, has the feminine lead. William Frawley, Ruth Donnelly and Roscoe Karns are prominent members of the cast. Some location scenes were taken at Wrigley Field in Chicago.

"The Florentine Dagger" is an unusual story of an author of plays about historic murders who fears he has a flair like his ancestors for murder. Donald Woods and Margaret Lindsay head the cast which also includes Henry O'Neill, C. Aubrey Smith and Robert Barrat.

Enemy Soldiers Meet at Smoker

Former Veterans Of Great War Forget France—Germans And Canadians Exchange Incidents

REGINA, October 30: (CP)—Men who twenty years ago faced each other across No Man's Land stood together here recently in the spirit of friendship and talked over the days when they fought each other on the shell swept battlefields.

The occasion was an "international" smoker held by the Regina unit of the Army and Navy Veterans. Marking the spirit of goodwill, former British soldiers stood to attention while the German national anthem was played. German soldiers applauded a French speech, and Canadians and Bavarians swapped reminiscences in a haze of tobacco smoke.

Over 175 guests and members were in attendance, and the spirit of the gathering was stressed by the president, A. C. Bole, when he said, "If all the nations of the world could meet together in the same spirit we have here, it would not be hard to solve the difficulties of the world today."

During the playing of "Deutschland Uber Alles", the German national anthem, several figures could be seen with hands raised rigidly in the Nazi salute.
