WHIFFLETS

From the Waterfront

With thirty passengers on board, C. P. R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. William Palmer, arrived in port at 10 o'clock yesterday morning from Vancouver in the course of her regular fortnightly voyage to Alaska. She sailed an hour later for Skagway and waypoints whence she is scheduled to return here Thursday afternoon southbound. The Norah disembarked five passengers here while a similar number boarded her here for the north.

Bringing a small list of passengers, Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, arrived in port at 6:15 last evening from the south and sailed at 8 p.m. for Stewart, Anyox and other northern points. She is due to return here Tuesday morning and sail at 1:30 that afternoon for Vancouver.

Fred Goodey, regularly chief steward of the steamer Venture on a lower coast run, is now aboard the steamer Catala as chief steward, relieving Chief Steward Bert Ebde, who is ashore at Vancouver on his annual vacation.

Forty-one carloads of grain having arrived over the week-end, were on the tracks alongside the Alberta Wheat Pool's elevator this morning awaiting unloading in addition to others in the yard. There is no word yet as to when the first vessel of the year may be expected here to load grain for export.

Effective immediately, the sailing hour of the steamer Cardena from Prince Rupert for the south on Friday nights is changed from 12 midnight to 10:30 p.m. It was announced this morning at local offices of the Union Steamship Co.

ternment by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. There is a general relaxation of tariffs between the two countries. Concessions are granted to United States by Canada on some 767 commodities while 53 major Canadian items are being given special consideration by the United States. The treaty becomes operative January 1 and remains in effect for three years.

Canadian magazines, wood pulp, nickel ore and undressed furs continue on the free list as do lobsters, swordfish, smelts, eels, whitefish and certain other fish. Wood shingles continue on the free list with a quota. Hewn logs, shingle bolts, railway ties, poles, etc. remain on the free list of this country.

Court action to test the constitutionality of the law under which the new treaty was negotiated is hinted by representatives of the American lumber industry.

PACIFIC

British Columbia Milk

The reason we like to make the announcement that British Columbia is our home is the good milk our British Columbia produces. This fact makes us happy when a mother in a letter tells us how well her child is doing on Pacific Milk. The compliment to the milk is also a compliment to the Province and makes us feel how fortunate it is that this good milk is produced here.

PHILHARMONIC SEASON OPENS

Fifty Lovers of Good Music in Attendance at First United Church Last Night

The Prince Rupert Philharmonic Society held the first of the season's recitals last night in First United Church, about fifty patrons of good music being in attendance and expressing general appreciation of the program which included sacred and secular numbers. Dr. H. N. Brocklesby conducted in his usual capable manner and Charles P. Balagoo was a discerning accompanist. Dr. R. G. Large, president of the Prince Rupert Philharmonic Society, made a brief opening announcement.

The program was as follows: Organ solo, "Grand March" (Lehman) and "Adagio" (Beethoven), Miss Swanna Olafson.

Hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers," the choir.

Anthem, "Glorious is Thy Name" from "Twelfth Mass" (Mozart), the choir.

Vocal solo, "Hear Thou My Prayer" (Hamblin), Mrs. A. J. Webster.

"There is a Lady" (Purcell), the choir.

Violin solos, "Ave Marie" (Schubert) and "Lullaby" (Brahms), Bert Cameron.

Ladies' chorus, "Listen to the Lambs" (Dett), Mrs. Ernest Anderson soloist.

"John Peel" (Treharne), the choir.

"Going Home" from "The New World Symphony" (Dvorak), the choir.

Vocal duet, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling" (Tait), Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Large.

Hymn, "Abide With Me," Mrs. H. N. Brocklesby soloist.

WELL KNOWN STORY HERE

"When a Man's a Man" at Capitol With George O'Brien—Musical Comedy Also Being Shown

"When a Man's a Man," picturization of Harold Bell Wright's famous novel of the same name, and "Stolen Harmony," in which music is blended with comedy and a dramatic note, come to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here on a first of the week double bill.

George O'Brien has the starring role in "When a Man's a Man," the setting of which is an Arizona ranch to which comes a mysterious easterner, short of money, obviously a gentleman but silent as to his past. He is befriended by a hard-hearted westerner and becomes a "man's man," finding himself in the dilemma of his lifetime when he realizes that his best friends and himself are rivals for the hand of the same girl. Dorothy Wilson and Paul Kelly have the principal supporting roles.

George Raft and Ben Bernie are the principals in "Stolen Harmony." It tells the story of an orchestra on a transcontinental barnstorming tour by motorbus. Raft is an ex-convict who is trying to go straight but for whom things look bad for a time until he is finally able to clear himself. Grace Bradley has the feminine lead.
