TERMS OF TARIFF PACT, MOST IMPORTANT IN HISTORY OF CANADA, ARE ANNOUNCED SIMULTANEOUSLY AT WASHINGTON AND OTTAWA-MUTUAL MOST-FAVORED NATION TREATMENT.

Way is Opened to Much Greater Exchange Between Two Nations

IMPERIAL AGREEMENTS ARE NOT AFFECTED UNDER ACCORD—MANY ARTICLES INVOLVED - SALMON GETS TWENTY-FIVE PERCENT CUT-DETAILS OF FISH SCHEDULE.

OTTAWA, Nov. 18: (CP)—Declared to be the most extensive revision of the Canadian tariff structure since the Dominion's inception, the Canada-United States trade agreement, signed at Washington last Friday and the terms of which were published here Sunday, opens the way to a wider exchange in great volume of United States commodities for Canadian products, chiefly of the forest, farm and sea.

The agreement opens a broader market in the United States for Canadian lumber, a variety of farm and dairy products, live cattle, fish, some minerals, all types of elles property on Copper River near whiskey aged in wood for four years and some manufactured goods. The reductions range up to the full fifty aboard the steamer Princess Norah percent which President Roosevelt is empowered to give, enroute to whitehorse. The treaty runs from January 1 next for three years visit to the Yukon although he is and will continue in operation thereafter until six well known in practically all other months after notice has been given by either country to mining areas of the west. end it. Under certain named exceptional circumstances it may be ended at any time on thirty days' notice.

Each country gives the other most favored nation treatment. Preservation intact of the Ottawa trade agreements is a feature, the most favored nation clause having no relation to preference accorded by Canada to British Empire countries. This is also true of customs rates granted by the United States to Cuba and any of its territories and possessions.
