Felix Batt Tells of Wonderful Work Done by Amateurs in Prince. Rupert and Elsewhere

"The Radio Amateur" was the dress given by Felix Batt yesterday Want Ads 1-lb. can 20c luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club. He told of the wonderful work the thousands of amateurs and done in experimentation. They way, across the Atlantic. There were 50,000 licensed today in the United States and Canada, During the war amateur radio operators had proven to be among the most efficient operators in the army. Philharmonic Society concert, shortly before the war. As soon as war commenced the stations were all dismantled but, with the return FOR SALE-Piano, radio, chesterof peace, increased numbers were | field suite, and other furniture in operation. At first they were given the whole of the short wave band but this has been gradually

Mr. Batt reminded the club of the splendid work done by Jack Barnsley of this city in communicating with the MacMillan expedition in the far north at a time when no other station was able to get through. The local boys were in touch with Amundsen when he was supposed to be lost. Last year they kept in touch with the Harvard ex-Presbyterian Sunday School Conpedition of mountain climbers and several instances of life saving UP TO $50.00 EACH PAID FOR U were given in which the local amateur station were the chief factors. The radio amateurs work without pay, stay up until all hours of the night and feel themselves fully rewarded if they are able to make any new discovery or reach any new point. All they asked was to be left alone to carry on their work. After the address there was a demonstration of a brief talk coming from the local amateur station. Then a sketch involving an address from Mahatma Gandhi at Allahabad in India was given which caus-Gents, 35c led much amusement. Those taking part were Felix Batt, S. P. Woodside, Norman Kinslor, Clarence Insulander and Bert Bartlett.
