HEALTH OF NURSES IN

sociation-Heating Plant at Nurses' Home Discussed

tion in regard to the health of the nursing staff and conditions at the hospital and nurses' home in regard

The house committee, which has the matter in hand, asked for further time to consider the report before passing upon it. There were certain recommendations of a contentious nature, Frank Dibb, chairman of the house committee, stated. and it was felt advisable that the committee should have another

The committee reported that a, survey had been made of the heating system at the Nurses' Home by C. H. Elkins who had reported that the boiler was sufficiently large to carry the required load and that there was adequate radiation with possibly more than necessary on the first floor. It might be advisshould be carried out by Mr.

The necessity of regular firing to ensure efficient heating was discussed, this bringing up the question of the advisability of installing an automatic iron fireman for coal or an automatic oil burner.

Hospital Ticket Plan is Drawing

The executive committee of the hospital board last night reported that petition forms for a system of hospital treatment tickets here by payment of regular monthly fees were meeting with little response. Little enthusiasm for such a project was being displayed, the general disposition appearing to be that it would be advisable to wait and see what legislation in regard to state health insurance the government Trades & Labor Council, President S. D. Macdonald stated.

Certain advertising will be done in the press next week drawing attention to the petitions.

It was mentioned that tomorrow would be National Hospital Day Repairs to Fair
