DAILY EDITION

Wednesday, August 28, 1935 GRASPING AT STRAWS.

Hon. H. H. Stevens who is leading a rather forlorn hope with his reconstruction party is grasping at the straw of Douglas credit in the hope that it will keep his group from being sunk in the election morass. The unexpected strength developed by the Aberhart party in Alberta gives him a ray of hope that by allying himself with them he may elect a few members in Alberta.

It is possible that what may help Mr. Stevens in Alberta may be his ruin in other provinces of the Dominion. At anyrate it does not at present seem as if the reconstructionists can hope to elect more than half-a-dozen members in the whole country and probably not that many.

The true Liberal welcomes the Douglas Credit experiment as a movement that may possibly give Liberalism a lead. If it fails, the harm done is only in Alberta and even there it may prove to be a useful protest against reactionary conservatism and slow moving liberalism. It shows the world that the people are dissatisfied and must get a better deal than has been given them in the past.
