Naval Preparations in Mediterranean Are Continuing Apace

GENEVA, September 18 (Canadian Press)—Marked throughout by repeated expressions of fidelity to the Covenant of the League of Nations, the League Assembly's general debate concluded yesterday afternoon. Delegate after delegate declared readiness of his country to stand by obligations of the covenant but none defended Italy's political demands on Ethiopia nor supported Italy's threat to enforce these demands by military conquest.

Immediately war should break out between Italy and Ethiopia the full force of League sanctions and penalties upon the aggressor would go into force, involving probably a complete naval blockade of the Mediterranean and possibly military action.

Tomorrow the five-power commission investigating the Italo-Ethiopian dispute will present its report, probably blaming Italy as the aggressor.

British Fleet Moves East

LONDON, September 17 (Canadian Press)—While government officials were marking time pending further developments in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute at Geneva, naval preparations in the Mediterranean were continuing apace. It was disclosed today that the large battle cruisers Hood and Renown of the home fleet, accompanied by three other cruisers and four destroyers, had reached Gibraltar after a fast voyage from Portland under secret orders.

Fifty thousand troops, accompanied by hundreds of tanks, cavalry and squadrons of airplanes, were manoeuvring in Hampshire and adjoining counties in the largest mobilization scheme in years. Meantime, Italy continues to pour troops into East Africa, more than fifteen thousand departing since Sunday.

NAZI HEAD OUTSPOKEN

Declares Memel Was Stolen From Germany and League Ratified It

'Hands Off' Policy

Hitler Declares Germany Not Interested in Italo-Ethiopian Dispute

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 17: (CP)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler speaking at a special session of the Reichstag declared that Memel had been stolen from Germany and that the League of Nations had legalized the theft. He launched a bitter attack upon the League.

The Reichsfuehrer claimed that many Germans were being unlawfully disfranchised in an election which is to be held at Memel on September 29. He issued a blunt warning that the Memel issue will cause trouble unless League powers revise their attitude and protect the rights of the minority.

Speaking of international affairs in view of the present European situation, Hitler reiterated Germany's "unshakeable love for peace" and declared amid cheers that Germany did not intend to concern herself in matters that were none of her business. The policy of this country as far as the Italo-Ethiopian dispute was concerned would be one of hands off and he did not intend to have anything to do with this dispute. Germany had no intention of provoking a conflict with Russia.

Jews will be permitted to continue as German subjects but will not be permitted to become German citizens, intermarry with Aryans, have intimate relations with Gentiles nor even employ Aryan servant girls under forty-five years of age, the Reichstag decreed.

May Take Action

GENEVA, Sept. 17:—The powerful demand of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler for the return to Germany of the port of Memel is taken here to indicate that an attempt may be made by Germany by forcible means if necessary to repossess itself of that port while the rest of Europe is occupied with the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

Fielder Len Koenecke Started Rough House In Air and Is Slain

Dramatic Battle as Machine Carcened Wildly Over Toronto—Pilot, Struggling to Control Ship, Uses Extinguisher With Fatal Results

TORONTO, Sept. 17: (CP)—Leonard Koenecke, outfielder of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was killed early today in a mad, bloody, struggle with the two-man crew of a cabin plane that roared dizzily through the darkness high over Toronto suburbs. Hanging to the controls with one hand, Pilot William J. Mulqueeney cracked Koenecke over the head with a fire extinguisher and dazedly brought the plane to a forced landing on Long Branch race track. Police arrested Mulqueeney and his assistant, Irwin Davis, charging manslaughter.

The ball player had been released for the balance of the season and was on his way from St. Louis, where his team is now playing, to New York. He had chartered Mulqueeney's machine in Detroit for a trip to Buffalo.

Mulqueeney declared that in the middle of the trip Koenecke "became restless, grabbing at the controls." He was ordered into the rear seat and immediately began a rough and tumble fight with Davis, both men rolling about and threatening the stability of the machine. Koenecke attacked Mulqueeney who struck him with the extinguisher. The pilot says he did not intend to kill the ball player but merely to stun him.
