VIEWS OF BUSINESS

The August number of "Canadian Business" publishes and H. B. Sandberg, Port an interesting article entitled "Ottawa Parade" in which Essington; C. Evars, Oceanic; A. Tinker 12; MacPhee 21, Angus will meet this evening and again the writer suggests a possible majority of for the wehl, John Greenwood and fam- Macdonald 13. According to the writer, the torpedoing of city; Mrs. Alfred Mulwain, Claxthe Conservative party by Hon. H. H. Stevens meant the katla; Mr. and Mrs. P. Brentzen, Visiting Ocean Falls and local downfall of the Bennett administration but yet he did Port Simpson; J. Morton, North baseball players Wednesday afternot think there would be many Stevens Conservatives Pacific Cannery; George Eyford, noon viewed an interesting display elected. Their stronghold he suggested was in Ontario but Cassiar; Mrs. J. Buchan, Senithers, of talking picture films depicting even there, while they would take a good many votes, they would not be strong enough to elect their men except possibly in a very few individual cases.

Evidently the writer of the article in question would like to have seen Mr. Bennett returned to power. He speaks of the unfortunate illness of the Prime Minister and its effect on the electorate that had to some extent dispelled the spirit of defeat that seemed to have gripped the Conservative party. Thus the effect of the radio speeches early in the year was lost. He also mentioned the astonishing scramble of ministers for safe exits.

The writer prophesies that the coming election will show conclusively that the people refuse to be bothered about the C. C. F. as a federal political factor and suggests that the prospects of the Liberal party are very bright. It is assured that the Liberals will pull the country out of a hole and it intimates that business people will welcome the removal of restrictions on foreign and domestic trade. Quality rather than quantity of government is what is wanted more than anything else.

That is the business view. For the view of the average wage earner one has to turn elsewhere but nowhere is there any evidence that any other party than the Liberal is likely to secure anything like a majority in the next House.

While forecasts are not facts and nothing is so uncertain as an election, it is hardly likely that the electorate generally will change with sufficient rapidity to materially affect the outlook when the votes are counted.
