WHIFFLETS
From the Waterfront

Relieving the steamer Princess Adelaide, which has been withdrawn from service for two or three weeks for annual inspection and overhaul, C. P. R. steamer Princess Louise, with Capt. S. K. Gray in command, is due in port at 5 o'clock this afternoon from the south and will sail at 10 p.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. Ernest Georgeson, is due in port about 8 o'clock this evening from the south and will sail at midnight on her return to Vancouver and waypoints. The Cardena is back again on her regular run after an absence of several weeks during which time she underwent annual overhaul, later relieving for a few trips on the Catala's route.

C. P. R. steamer Princess Norah, in port yesterday afternoon southbound from Skagway to Vancouver, had a light list of passengers, totalling but twenty-four. Two persons disembarked here while seven sailed from this port for Vancouver aboard her.

LOOKS SUSPICIOUS

Editor, Daily News: —

The bill changing the auditors of the Canadian National Railways has now passed the House of Commons. It is a matter of indifference to the public who audits the books of the Canadian National Railway, provided the auditors are efficient, but the circumstances of this change will certainly deepen the general suspicion that the government is unfriendly to the National system. Dr. Manion said in the debate on the bill that Messrs. Touche and Company had given satisfactory service in every way and he left them in charge of the department for four years. Why has it now occurred to him that a change would be beneficial?

The auditors, in their recent report, recorded that the Canadian National Railway was carrying a debt of Grand Trunk stock, Intercolonial deficits and Canadian Northern stock, $1,771,320,658 which were absolutely worthless. This report was in compliance with the law, which directs them to call attention to matters requiring remedial action, and they recommended that this debt should be written down to $760,137,049.

Mr. Manion, in opposing this recommendation, says that the writing down of this capitalization would in no way better the position of the Canadian National Railways and therefore the question is not a live one. This argument is obviously a specious one. No one says that the recapitalization of the Canadian National Railways would affect the operation or the earning power of the railway. What it will do is to make clear to the public what that earning power is. The system is loaded with a debt on which, even in good years, it cannot possibly earn interest. The inclusion of it in the debt of the railway provides the propagandists in favor of amalgamation with a most formidable argument, in fact their only one, and he is perfectly aware that recapitalization is a live issue because it would destroy overnight the whole case for putting the Canadian National Railways out of business.

This is certainly the conclusion the public will draw from the episode of Touche and Company and the government's dismissal of their proposal to recapitalize.

Ceramics Subject Of High School Teachers' Talk

The regular meeting of the Northern High School Teachers' Association was held in the Commercial Room of the King Edward School on Wednesday afternoon.

Arthur Sutton spoke on "Ceramics," a subject with which he is particularly familiar. The speaker referred to his early associations with the English towns devoted to the making of pottery. After explaining the processes of manufacture, Mr. Sutton illustrated his talk with many samples which proved of great interest to his audience. Practical suggestions, helpful in the purchase of earthenware were given by the speaker.

At the close of the address considerable discussion followed and the specimens were examined in detail especially those manufactured in British Columbia.

SPECIAL MATINEE

English Travel Pictures Tomorrow Afternoon—Fine Feature Also

Tomorrow afternoon's matinee at the Capitol Theatre will commence at 1:30 instead of the usual time and, in addition to the regular show featuring the sensational spy picture, "British Agent," there will be a series of travel pictures depicting scenes in the different counties of England.

In the course of one hour these pictures take one to famous southern English resorts, the North Country, The Midlands, and there is a beautiful colored film by the Great Western Railway of Shakespear's Country and the rural Midlands.

These pictures are of exceptional interest to local people and especially school children.

"British Agent," the week-end feature picture, is the dramatic story of a great love vying with almost fanatical patriotism. The Russian Revolution forms the background and the two brilliant stars, Leslie Howard and Kay Francis, head the cast.

F. A. MacCallum, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, is confined to his residence with an attack of influenza.

C. O. Rowe, N. Almon and Miss Mabel Almon sailed yesterday afternoon on the Princess Norah for Vancouver where it is their intention to take up future residence.
