The crew has of a museum at Juneau. He was curator of that museum been paid off. until recently and it is a worthy monument to an outstanding man.

When the establishment of a museum at Prince Rupert was under consideration some years ago Father Kasshavaroff passed through the city and gave the local board valuable advice in regard to the possibility of the work here, a work which was held back during the depression days but which is now going ahead.

TONE IMPROVING

There was a time when residents of Prince Rupert were doubtful about the wisdom of bringing up boys in the city. There was a tendency for them to take to drinking habits and become anything but model citizens. The general tone of the city has improved since those days. Today we find; many young men cutting clear of the wild crowd and taking up serious studies and interesting themselves in those things which make for the betterment of the community. It is a honeful sign and deserves the encouragement of all right thinking people. There is no reason why a healthy environment cannot be created in Prince Rupert.

A young man does not necessarily have to be religious or sanctimonious in order to be decent. He does not have to be a prig. What is needed is a healthy sentiment in which the elders might do well to lead the way.

T. Storrie, who has been fourth engineer of the Estevan, which operates out of Victoria, has been appointed chief engineer of the local lighthouse tender Newington in succession to F. A. Russell, who has retired and left for Vancouver to take up future residence. Mr. Storrie holds first class Board of Trade marine engineer's papers.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, arrived in port at 6 o'clock last evening from the south and sailed at 8 p.m. for Stewart, Anyox and other northern points whence she will return here tomorrow morning and sail at 1:30 p.m. for Vancouver and waypoints. The vessel had no passengers for Prince Rupert and only one for beyond here. She had on board more mill machinery for the Esperanza mine at Alice Arm including one piece weighing four and a

Capt. Paul Armour and bird! nunting party consisting of Alex McRae, Norman A. Watt, Don Crerar, L. H. Haworth, Walter Hume, W. O. Fulton, F. A. MacCallum, Hubert Ward, J. A. Hinton, Frank Dibb and H. B. Stiles returned home at 11:30 last night aboard the Algie from a jaunt to Kwinimass and Winter Harbor. They got no geese and very few ducks but brought home an alibi- that George Bryant and Bill Jankins! had been there before them and scared away all the geese they did not shoot. Bryant and Jenkins also got home last night on the Harla with a couple of honkers and a bag of ducks.

Tug Kingsway, Capt. S. Carlson arrived in port yesterday morning from Vancouver, having in tow a fuel-laden scow for the Home Oil Distributors Ltd.

Alaska papers place the loss as a result of the recent big cannery! fire at Seldovia, which was recorded in the Daily News a week or so ago, at $250,00. Fourteen fishing
