NEED OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

One of the desirable things in this life is to have good neighbors. This is true of countries as well as individuals. In order to get the best out of life it is necessary that neighboring countries trade with each other, visit back and forth and co-operate on great issues.

For years the United States tried the policy of fiscal aloofness. Finding that did not make for the best conditions for their citizens she has changed her policy and is now making trade agreements. She made one with Canada some months ago and this was followed this week by an agreement with France under which the two countries can the more easily purchase the products of the other country.

Canada made a flight into the circle of fiscal exclusiveness but the people did not like it and today we are prepared to trade on reasonable terms with any nation that will trade with us. We, as a nation, recognize that we cannot live to ourselves. We have to be neighborly with other nations or we injure ourselves. It is not neighborly to put the tariff wall so high that we cannot do business with each other.

HOT FOR CRIMINALS

The United States is making it hot for criminals. The authorities have been going after them of late as if they really wanted to catch them, and the result has been a general round-up of those who live by contravening the laws of the country. A few of them have been executed but most are serving long terms in penitentiaries or are awaiting trial. Such a policy will result in fewer crimes being committed.

What applies to individuals in a country may also apply to countries and in time, doubtless, we shall work out a system of international criminology under which a nation that breaks the international code will be made to suffer. In the past, while we have applied the law of punishing the evil-doers to individuals in a country, we have not attempted to apply it to nations. Of late, however, the world has been undergoing a marvellous change and international morality is becoming a factor in world politics. Precedent is no longer looked upon as an excuse for international crimes.

LEGION IS IN SESSION

To Enter Baseball and Football Teams—Front of Building To Be Improved

With President W. M. Brown in the chair over a large attendance of members, the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League took place last evening.

The annual picnic will be held on June 14.

It was decided to sponsor a team in the City Baseball League and Ernest Anderson was appointed delegate.

It was also decided to enter a team in the City Football competitions. With so many old players in the membership of the branch, a strong committee will be appointed and Trainer Jock McGaish will look after the players in his usual competent manner. Fred Hardy was appointed delegate to the association.

The challenge billiard match between R. C. Mutch of Smithers and Neil Cameron of the local branch will be played on Friday and Sunday next in two blocks of 500 points each at the Legion rooms.

It was decided to present a copy of the second edition of "Haig" to the Prince Rupert Library. Regret was expressed that the copy of the first volume had had such hard usage at the hands of some of the borrowers.

The thanks of the branch were expressed to the Women's Auxiliary for the disposal of the model yacht so generously donated by A. J. Croxford.

The front of the building will be repainted as soon as possible.

Comrades in the hospital and ex-service men from outside points there had been visited and supplied with comforts.

Preliminary to this general meeting an executive meeting was held Monday night.

SELF-RELIANCE AND CANADIANISM ADVOCATED proven such a success—an Empire which was seven times the size of the Roman Empire at its greatest and which included one-quarter of the population of the world.

He had no criticism or unfriendliness for the United States, continued the speaker, but he did feel that there was a danger, through the radio, the newspapers, the magazines and the moving pictures, of Canadians—especially the young—learning more about the United States than they did about Canada. He pleaded for a development of a pride in Canada. The memory of Canadian builders should be kept green with the thought that there were things that might be accomplished today by Canadians. Greater attention should be paid to Canadian history and literature. There was romance, glory and beauty in Canada upon which a spirit of pride should be developed among the young Canadians.

"The spirit of the men who overcame difficulties in this country of ours in the past is what we want today," asserted Mr. Maitland "Instead of teaching our children that the government owes them a living, we should teach them that they come of a people who are able to overcome difficulties and do things for themselves. We should teach them respect for law and order, a belief in constitutional government and inspire in them the same ideals and spirit of the pioneers who have gone before and blazed the trail."

The more he travelled through British Columbia, said Mr. Maitland in the course of his address, the more was he inspired with the great potentialities of this country and the opportunities which it presented.

Club Appreciative
Dr. R. G. Large, president of the club, was in the chair and tendered Mr. Maitland a hearty vote of thanks on behalf of the members of the club. Guests were Orme Stewart, George Cripps, City Commissioner W. J. Alder and Peter Laskie.

WHIFFLETS

From the Waterfront

A change will come into effect in the Union Steamship Co. coastal service next week whereby the steamer Venture will come on the run out of Vancouver as far north as Rivers Inlet. The Venture will relieve the steamer Cardena of the coils she has been making in Rivers Inlet of late. As a result the Cardena, which has been running late, a good deal recently, should now be able to make better time and get here in-time to leave on scheduled time for the south Friday night. The Cardena will continue to call at Bella Coola, Ocean Falls and the Skeena River northbound.

The Home Oil Distributors Ltd. tanker Danamic, Capt. James McCulloch, was in port yesterday from Vancouver with a cargo of fuel for the company's local tanks. The vessel arrived from the south in the morning and sailed in the afternoon on her return to Vancouver.

The Home Oil fuel barge was taken out to Sunnyside Cannery yesterday to be stationed there for the salmon fishing season. Len Cripps is again in charge.

There were forty-one passengers aboard the steamer Princess Louise which was in port yesterday afternoon southbound after her first voyage of the season to Alaska. Nine persons disembarked from the vessel here while one went south aboard her from here.

THE NORMANDIE STILL WORLD'S LARGEST VESSEL

COMPARATIVE SIZES OF THE QUEEN MARY AND THE NORMANDIE

In spite of the entrance of the huge new British liner Queen Mary into the trans-Atlantic passenger ship competition, the French liner Normandie, which made her first trip last year, remains the world's largest ship. Layout above gives the latest revised figures on the tonnage and length of the two giant vessels, each of which cost more than $16,000,000. Queen Mary, above, Normandie below.

I CERTAINLY GOT A BARGAIN IN THESE CORN FLAKES. A WHOLE PENNY CHEAPER AND THE GROCER SAYS THEY'RE JUST AS GOOD

THERE'S SOMETHING WRONG WITH THESE CORN FLAKES, JANE. THEY TASTE STALE TO ME. NO FLAVOR-TOUGH-LEATHERY

OH, DEAR! I THOUGHT THEY WERE JUST LIKE KELLOGG'S!

WELL—I'VE GOT TO BE GOING. I'LL PICK UP SOMETHING TO EAT ON THE WAY TO WORK!

THERE'S nothing far-fetched about this story. Thousands of housewives have had the very same experience.

Value isn't simply a matter of price. It's what you get for your money. Kellogg's Corn Flakes are one of the most inexpensive foods. But they give you appetizing flavor and crispness.

You'll find that Kellogg's Corn Flakes are among the greatest values your grocer sells. For a few cents you get a big package, holding many generous servings. Ready to eat. No cooking. And they're wholesome, easy to digest.

Serve Kellogg's for breakfast, lunch or the children's supper. Try them yourself for a bedtime snack. Kellogg's are made from premium grades of corn, under ideal working conditions. And they're oven-fresh, protected by the patented WAXTITE inner wrapper—used by no other brand.

Don't accept imitations. Insist on Kellogg's—the only Corn Flakes made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

Nothing takes the place of Kellogg's CORN FLAKES
