Contession of Widow Now Dead is Relegated In Estate Litigation

Is Said to be in Possession of Sister of Late Theatrical Magnate—Will be Produced if She is Protected

TORONTO, May 30: (CP)—Existence of a document described as a "confession," allegedly signed by the late Mrs. Theresa Small, in connection with the disappearance of her husband, was related today in testimony before Special Examiner T. T. Rolph. The examination is in regard to affidavits supporting request for an injunction estate of Mrs. Small's husband, disappeared in December 1919. Patrick Sullivan, special investigator for Miss Gertrude Small, said he had not submitted the original document for it would be dangerous to those who are in possession

"You must produce it," Mr. Rolph

"It's in Toronto at Miss Small's home and, if you will protect Miss Small against the Black Army gang blowing up her home, I'll produce it," Sullivan said.
