Thames Will See Things That Have Not Been Staged Since Stuart Days

LONDON, Sept. 29: (CP)-Water pageantry such as has not been seen on the Thames since the colorful days of the Tudors and Stuarts is proposed in connection with the coronation next May.

The idea of holding a splendid "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" and pageant on the historic river, with the famous royal barge, has been submitted to him, the watermen of London being anxious to honor him by a grand display of craft and present a noteworthy spectacle to the citizens of the metropolis and the coronation visitors.

> The Thames, to which London owes her existence, history and prosperity had no place in the celebrations of King George's Ju-
