The government claimed that northwest of Madrid. The cavalry Is in Seclusion northwest of Madrid. The cavalry regiment, riding up with banners flying, was waited for by the loyalsts and horses and men went down in heaps before a withering loyalist fire, the remaining rebels retreating as a disorderly mob of refugees. The government claimed military victories in other quarters and denied that evacuation of Madrid was seing contemplated. Not even the children, it was said, had been sent away in preparation for a siege.

General Francisco Franco, Fascist commander-in-chief, is said to have 150,000 troops in readiness for ais final drive on Madrid. Immediate attack is to be centred, according to the rebels, on an important railway junction near the city. Naval forces are also being conentrated at Cadiz, it is reported, for a naval attack upon Malaga.
