GOOD FISH RUN IS ON

Skeena and Naas Rivers Not So Far Affected by Strike

The sockeye salmon fishermen's strike is so far confined to River's Inlet and has not spread to other areas in Prince Rupert district, it was stated in official circles here this morning.

Sockeye fishing, now in its second week, is proceeding normally on the Skeena and Naas River and the fishermen are making good catches. A total of about 800 boats are fishing on the Skeena River, making average daily catches of thirty-five fish to the boat. On the Naas River 225 boats are fishing with an average of thirty fish per day.

The sockeye price on the Skeena and Naas Rivers is fortyfive cents.
