TREATY IS BROKEN BUT LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS STILL FIRST BULWARK

Backed by Britain and France Geneva Organization Shows Strength in Present World Turmoil Including Italo-Ethiopian Conflict

GENEVA, Jan. 23: (AP)—The Treaty of Versailles is today but a shadow of its once formidable self. Put into force through exchange of ratifications 16 years ago—on Januar'y 10, 1920—it was designed to punish the defeated central powers and to make the world safe against future wars by the organization of an international peace body,

The League of Nations. The League. # bulwarked by the leadership of Great Britain and France, has continued to play a role in world affairs, and is showing its greatest strength in the Italo-Ethiopian conflict. Territorial and colonial provisions of the Treaty, by which the frontiers of the defeated powers were shortened and Germany's colonies placed under League mandates have been carried out.

But the Reich last year announced open repudiation of the army and air clauses of the Treaty and has put this refusal into action by building up these branches of her war forces. In addition, Reichsfuehre Hitler has indicated his abrogation of the naval provisions of the Treaty by an agreement with Great Britain. The latter country accords Germany the right to build up to 35 per cent of the British Navy. This pact permits Germany a total of 420,595 tons, based on the Washington and London naval
