Disorders in Addis

Mass Mobilization Throughout Nation Will Display Italian Loyalty

ADDIS ABABA, May 5: (CP)—Rome's victorious troops raised the banner of Fascism over this pillaged capital today. Troops passed the British legation at 5 a.m. and headed for the centre of the city. The arrival of the troops is expected to relieve the grave situation which has existed since Emperor Haile Selassie fled the country on Saturday.

Occupants of the United States legation have been transferred to a British mission by a machine gun detachment after being imperilled by a riot of mad natives. The United States has been given assurance by the Italian government that the lives and property of foreigners in Addis Ababa will be protected according to the rules of war.

Demonstration of Loyalty ROME, May 5:—Premier Mussolini announced last night that he would call the entire nation to demonstrate its loyalty with a mass mobilization to coincide with the entry of Italian forces into Addis Ababa, capital of Ethiopia. The mobilization will start with a signal of ringing of bells, beating of drums and blowing sirens, either today or tomorrow.

Resentment has been expressed in official Italian quarters at the actions of France and Great Britain following the flight of Emperor Haile Selassie from his capital at Addis Ababa. Exception is taken at the continued recognition by the two nations of Selassie as a sovereign. The French are criticized for having given him refuge in Djibuti and the British for granting him sanctuary in Jerusalem and affording him transport aboard a British warship to Palestine.

Holding to Legation ADDIS ABABA, May 5:—In the face of continued attacks by mad-gened natives, United States Minister Van Engert was still holding on to his legation building here and the compound containing 1500 refugees. He and his companions would abandon the legation only as a last resort. Engert said in spite of orders of Secretary of State Cordell Hull to evacuate, the safety of the legation staff to be the first consideration.

Earlier yesterday help had been asked of the British in the way of a detachment of Sikh soldiers and machine guns. The British reply was that these could not be spared but that an armed guard would be sent to convoy the Americans the distance of four miles to refuge at the British legation. Engert then said that he would abandon the legation only as a last resort. After the exciting day yesterday, last night was reported calm.

Meantime fierce looting and pillaging by the leaderless Ethiopians continued throughout the shambles of the smouldering city before the Italian invaders should arrive. With ammunition running short, the natives were turning to

BRITAIN BUILDS DEADLY PLANE, NOW WORRIES ABOUT DEFENCE AGAINST IT

The aeroplane shown in the layout is the latest thing in instruments of destruction, and illustrates graphically the armament-maker's art. The aeroplane, which is the new R.A.F. "Fairey" bombing aeroplane, is so fast that it makes combat aeroplanes useless. With a speed of over 300 miles per hour, non-breakable glass encasements for the pilot and gunner, special fighting equipment in addition to bombs, the new aircraft marks a long forward step in the development of attacking aeroplanes. So effective is the machine, however, that British aviation experts are wondering what they can build now to act as a defence against it. Ordinary fighting aeroplanes cannot cope with the speed and manoeuvrability of the "Fairey"; it has retractable undercarriage, three-blade propeller, split wing flaps to reduce landing speed, all-metal airframe except for control surfaces, and a new 12-cylinder Rolls-Royce engine. It has a wing spread of 54 feet and an overall length of 42 feet. Bombs are carried inside the wings.

Operators Refuse To Negotiate So Men Go Off Their Jobs Today

Thirteen Hundred Employees Cease Their Labors As Deadline Passes—Mill Owners Claim That Percentage of Response Small

VANCOUVER, May 5: (CP)—Loggers and sawmill workers on Vancouver Island and the Mainland went out on strike today as the deadline passed for negotiations for higher wages and union recognition. About 1300 men refused to work this morning. Arne Johnson, secretary of the union, said. Mills affected are located at Cowichan Lake, North Vancouver and Port Moody.

Operators, who have refused to negotiate, stating that they have already given all the wage increases they can afford, claimed that less than three percent of the workers had acted on the strike order.

GRANTS TO PROVINCES ARE BEING CUT AGAIN, FEDERAL VOTE REVEALS

Allowances Further Reduced on Relief Account—Ten Thousand Men to be Given Work on Railways

OTTAWA, May 5: (CP)—A further cut in the grants to provinces was indicated in the House of Commons last night when $26,000,000 was voted for direct relief grants, this being more than five million dollars less than the Dominion contributed to the provinces up to the end of March. The reduction is in addition to a fifteen percent decrease put into effect in April.

The House also voted $3,100,000 to provide employment for ten thousand relief camp workers on railway maintenance work during the summer. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of railways, said that the government would pay the men standard wages while the railways would spend some $3,000,000 on supplies and supervision.

ELEPHANT STOPS TRAIN

PORT ELIZABETH, S. A., May 5: (CP)—Trumpeting defiance a big "rogue" elephant held up a mail train near Coerney. A series of blasts from the engine was necessary before the beast lumbered into the bush.

Vanderhoof Still Fights For Road To Manson Creek

The Vanderhoof Board of Trade is continuing its agitation with a view to having a highway built into the Manson Creek country in the Omineca mining division and has secured a promise of support in the project from Hon. George S. Carson, provincial minister of mines. If such a road were kept open all winter, the present almost prohibitive prices of winter freighting could be materially lowered, it is pointed out. This would give a great impetus to mining development in the section. The matter will be further taken up with the public works department.
