Yes, we imported blood suckers and paid five dollars for them and the Bureau of Statistics expended at least another dollar in tabulating them and sending out the information from one end of Canada to the other. Also we imported from Great Britain something like 75,000 golf balls during the same period, that is during the month of June. Think how much profanity those golf balls will cause. Another dangerous import was four and a half million pounds of raw rubber. Some of it will be made into motor tires which will run down a great many pedestrians and kill them. Some of it will be made into medical instruments which also may prove a danger. It makes us pause to consider whether imports of any kind should be allowed.

Champion Tennis Player Fires a Forehand Drive

Fred Perry, ace of the world's amateur tennis players, whips a hot return across Wimbledon's nets as he defeated his arch rival, the German baron, Gottfried von Cramm, in finals for the all-England singles title. Perry won his third straight world title, almost blasting the German ace off the courts, winning in straight sets. He is every inch a champion as he races to the net for this drive.
