

An informal snapshot of Neville Chamberlain, Britain's chancellor of the exchequer made a few days before England, France and the United States joined in a "gentleman's agreement" to devaluate their money in relation to each other's currency. Chamberlain is seen munching his lunch during a fishing party on Loch Ness, Scotland. England, France and the United States realigned their respective currencies in an attempt to bring about a worldwide equilibrium of exchange. The agreement was put in operation this week.

High

BRUSSELS, Oct. 15: (CP)-Belgium's return to a strict policy of complete neutrality in Europe is urged upon the cabinet by King Leopold. It would involve repudiation of existing security agreements with other powers and duties under the League of Nations Covenant, informed sources said today. The neutrality policy was advocated by the monarch in his first meech before the full cabinet yesterday. Informed sources said it meant repudiation of the Franco-Belgian military pact, one of the keystones of French defence policy.
