THE COSY CORNER

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

This is a little section of the paper, which from day to day will be devoted to subjects of special interest to women. Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

Society Note

After spending a few days in Victoria, Mrs. Vernon W. Smith, of Prince Rupert, left for New York, where she will spend a couple of months before leaving for California, where she will spend the winter.—Victoria Colonist.

NEW FURS

Wonderful Rich Effects for This Season in the Garments of the Wealthy.

A wonderful coat was seen in London recently all ready for a winter trousseau, made entirely of "summer ermine," which differs from the ordinary white by having a stripe down its centre of light delicate brown. A curious trimming on this coat, very long and with a tremendously wide shawl collar, was abroad band of rich brown and gold passementerie inserted about knee height, the cuffs being also for the brown and gold.

A wide, loose pereline of sea-dyed musquash with muff to match was bordered with ermine, lined with white satin, veiled in balck chiffon. Wolfskin is also being made in large stoles and muffs. A large auto coat is made entirely of mile skin in the striped effect; a great roll collar fastened low, down with two big round fur buttons at the left side. A long box-coat had a great collar of opossum, and a lining of the grey and white squirrel. A round crown hat of mole fur had a flat brim turned up and caught with a single long pheasant tail feather.

A muff and stole for a rich woman was an exquisitely shaded Russian marten, lined with ermine! The rich heavy plush made now looks always like fur, and a charming costume was made of seal brown cloth, the plush of the same shade being in a shaped piece from the knee down, a coat of the plush rather longer, where it fastened at the left side, with nine large buttons, a large folding collar covering the shoulders and chest lined with a contrasting silk. A high curved brim felt hat with soft feathers, all brown, had excellent effect. A beautiful coat is of all snowy white fur, lined with softest quilted satin, big collar, long sleeves, very full, and easily wrapped round the figure; clasped at the side with big pearl fastenings, it was quite an ideal evening coat for a winter bride.

NICE VEGETABLES

Hints for the Correct Cooking of All Kinds of Green Produce.

Choosing Vegetables: Choose those that are in season, medium-sized, as large ones are usually woody, stale and wilted vegetables are apt to be unwholesome.

Preparation: Wash, scrub and pare thinly, as much of the mineral matter lies close to the skin. Dried vegetables, as peas and beans, must be soaked at least twelve hours before cooking. Canned vegetables should be emptied as soon as opened and the contents allowed to stand awhile to regain the oxygen lost by canning. Drain off the liquid from peas and beans. Rinse and serve as fresh vegetables.

Cook vegetables whole when practicable, or into as large pieces as are convenient. The larger the pieces, the less loss of mineral salts from vegetables.

Use only as much water as is necessary to cover them.

Use the cooking water for sauces and soup stock, as it contains much nutritive matter dissolved from the vegetables.

Cook in gently boiling water. Green vegetables keep their color better if cooked uncovered. The reason is unknown.

Cook strong-smelling vegetables as onions and cabbage, uncovered in a large amount of water.

Seasoning: Use two teaspoons of salt to one quart of water. All vegetables must be drained as soon as tender. Serve hot, with butter or a vegetable sauce.

Stuffed Cabbage Head

Pull off about half a dozen of the outer leaves of a medium sized cabbage and put aside. Chop half of the head of cabbage and mixed with two slices of bread which has been soaked in water and squeezed out, one onion chopped, one-half pound pork sausage meat, one egg, salt and pepper. Put cloth in deep kettle, lay the outer leaves in cloth, and fill with above mixture. Tie cloth and boil one and one-half hours in salted water. This has the appearance of a boiled cabbage and is appetizing.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

New windows that stick may be made to move readily by applying paraffin to the groove in which the windows slide. If stuck with paint, run a case-knife all around the edges first.

A handful of coarse salt and a cupful of vinegar shaken up well in a cloudy decanter will clean it like magic. Rinse well with very hot water several times to remove all teat of salt.

If you wish to iron a starched garment and have not much time to wait, try this scheme. Sprinkle, roll in a damp cloth or paper and place in a cool oven for about five minutes to steam. It will then iron nicely.

THE SMILE CURE

Something That Will Make any Girl Happier and Prettier Even When She's Worried.

A professor in one of the Eastern colleges once told of a nervous breakdown that he had experienced some time before.

"How did you get over it?" I asked. He smiled. "I went to several of the nerve specialists," he said, "and I didn't succeed in getting any help. Then by chance I heard of a woman, not a physician, who had studied nervous diseases for years and had been very successful in treating them. Some friends persuaded me to go and see her."

"She began by making me learn to smile. You see I had got down to such depths that I couldn't smile. It seemed as if I had lost all power over the muscles of my face. They had become set. They not only expressed the depression that I felt, but they actually added to it."

"I obeyed instructions. I went home and for half an hour I stood before the mirror and I practiced smiling. At first I had a hard time twisting my mouth into a smile. In spite of myself, the muscles would sag. Then I saw that the muscles were actually fighting against me. I kept on trying, and at the end of half an hour I succeeded in making a pretty good imitation of a smile. That exercise I continued several days until I had overcome the rigidity of those facial muscles and learned to control them. After a time I found I could smile almost at will. When I began to be depressed I would resist the depressing thoughts. The combination of the resisting and the smiling would save me from falling into depression."

ABOUT GLOVES

Worn at First Only by Ladies of High Rank

It was not until the fourteenth century that women commenced to wear gloves and they were then only worn by ladies of rank. Many will remember that Lady Jane Grey and Charles I. gave to the faithful attendants with them on the scaffold the gloves they wore. The reign fringed gloves were fashionable, as were puffs and pinkings, loops of ribbon, flowers, both artificial and real and gussets of fine lace or embroidery.

The fashion of perfumed gloves was introduced by Queen Elizabeth, who received a present of such gloves from Italy and wore them in spite of the fact that poisoned gloves were not unusual presents made to notable personages. A present of gloves from Catherine de Medicis is said to have caused the death of the Dowager Queen of Navarre. Old books of recipes usually contain instructions for perfuming gloves.

BIG SWINDLE IN CAR TICKETS

Winnipeg Man is Said to Have Operated in All the Big Western Cities.

(Canadian Press Despatch) Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—With the arrival today of evidence collected by the Scotland Yard police, it is clear the police here have unearthed a gigantic swindle in street car tickets.

Charles Warren, a former street car conductor, is to stand trial for it next week. The operations were said to extend to all the western cities clear to the Pacific coast.
