Another Year Gone

DAILY EDITION

Another year is past with all its joys and sorrows and at midnight tonight we enter upon a new year with a new ESSINGTON set of problems, new difficulties to be overcome and, let us hope, plenty of new joys. Some of us will benefit from the experience of the past and others will not. Some will Activities in Connection With become richer and some poorer. Much depends on our own attitude toward life. In any event it is up to ourselves what we do with our time.

While we must admit that some people get the breaks PORT ESSINGTON, Dec. 31: and others do not, we must also acknowledge that in many with Pierce Memorial Church cases we are masters of our own fate and what we are during Christmas Week.
