In spite of the unusual heat, the Junior football game Saturday was productive of a good game and an unexpected win for Borden Street over Booth Memorial School by two goals to one. In winning this game Borden assured King Edward High School of the second half leadership and, as High School had already won the first half of the schedule, it becomes holder of the Rochester Shield for the 1935-1936 season.

Borden had the hill and sun in its favor but Booth early attacked, Ritchie being prominent. Nelson cleared but, in an exciting spell of pressing, Booth hit the upright and Monday, June 8, 1936 the crossbar twice. However, the ball was scrambled away. Mah saved from Ritchie and Scherk and

Thomas' Political Life Ended

The political life of Colonial Secretary J. H. ("Jim") Thomas is ended as a result of alleged leaks in the secrets of the recent British budget. It is stated that Thomas' son, Leslie, signed $500,000 insurance with Lloyds a few days before the budget, which included new income taxes, was brought down. The above picture shows J. H. Thomas (right) talking to Home Secretary Sir John Simon before a recent cabinet meeting.
