DR. ROBERTSON AND HIS COMPANION IN HOSPITAL AFTER LONG ENTOMBMENT

Were Taken Out of Moose River Gold Mine Early This Morning—Both Suffering Severely From Experience But Expected to Recover

MOOSE RIVER, N.S., April 23: (CP)—Shortly after midnight last night rescue workers reached Dr. D. E. Robertson and Alfred Scadding, who had been entombed for ten days in the 141-foot level of the Moose River gold mine following a cave-in while they were making an inspection of the mine with Herman Magill, Toronto bar-

PIONEER OF CITY DIES

Anthony M. Budinich Passes Away After Brief Illness—Here For Twenty-Eight Years

Anthony Budinich, resident of Prince Rupert for twenty-eight years, passed away this morning about 10:30 at his home, 943 Third Avenue West, after a brief illness.

For some years Mr. Budinich conducted a butcher shop business on Third Avenue near Seventh Street. He retired from business in 1920.

Deceased is survived by a widow and two sons, Anthony and Michael, both of this city. T. Bussanich, also of this city, is a nephew.

Funeral arrangements are in the hands of Hayner Bros. and the funeral will be with Roman Catholic Church rites.

Mr. Budinich had been fit and, apparently, in good health until very recently. As late as yesterday he had been able to do light work in his garden.

ABOUT OUR PULP MILL BLASTING HIGHWAYS VISIONS OF ROAD

Trade Journal Publishes Article In Regard to Project Doing Everything in Their Power To Prevent Ruthless Advance Of Italians

"Plans of Canadian-American Pulp & Paper Co. to build a mill at Prince Rupert are moving ahead at a satisfactory pace, according to Managing Director Frank L. Buckley, but a good deal of preliminary work remains to be done before construction contracts can be let," says the April issue of Pacific Pulp & Paper Industry.

"Mr. Buckley, accompanied by Edward A. Thompson of San Francisco, one of the company's directors, and Dr. Hellmuth Muller-Clemm and Dr. C. A. Schenck, made a trip to Prince Rupert this month to look over the site. They inspected the big dry dock property which is to serve as the mill site and which Canadian-American has taken over from the Canadian government. Mr. Buckley explained the company's project in detail. Mr. Muller-Clemm and Mr. Schenck also had an opportunity to see for themselves some of the pulp timber of the Skeena district which it is proposed to use in manufacture of bleached sulphite and other pulp.

"Both men are recognized as among the foremost authorities on pulp and paper in continental Europe and came to the coast at the invitation of Mr. Buckley. They showed much interest in the Prince Rupert project and said that here in the northwest much of the future development of the pulp and paper industry must be centered.

"Whether the Germans are to become associated with the Canadian-American company has not yet been disclosed. Their primary purpose in coming to the coast at this time was one of investigation and they feel that they have obtained a clearer picture than ever of the coast's possibilities as a pulp manufacturing field.

"Mr. Buckley returned recently from Europe where he conferred with several pulp and paper men and capitalists. Canadian-American will have international backing, and it is probable European capital will be in the project as well as Canadian and American.

"Mr. Thompson was favorably impressed with the plans. "L. A. DeGuere, consulting engineer for Canadian-American, who has drawn the plans for the mill visited Vancouver for a few days following his return from New Zealand and went over various details connected with the project with Mr. Buckley and Mr. Thompson."

A second article of a more general nature is devoted by "Pacific Pulp and Paper Industry" to the visit of Dr. Schenck and Dr. Muller-Clemm.

Dogfish Makes Delicious Food

REGINA, April 23: (CP)—The despised dogfish or ling when properly prepared is as tasty as fresh salmon. G. C. MacDonald, Dominion government hatcheries official, told the Regina Natural History Society in an address here.

He added there are 26 species of edible fish in Saskatchewan's 162 lakes. Operations to re-stock many of the lakes were outlined.

Mr. MacDonald stated commercial fishing is proving a boon to anglers. By reducing numbers of non-angling fish the food supply of other fish is cut down, with the result they rise more readily to the fisherman's lure.

Seven Thousand Dollars For Naval Reserve Accommodation And $18,400 For Work Here

OTTAWA, April 23: (CP)—Supplementary estimates tabled in the House of Commons yesterday totalled $124,748,743 of which all but $39,000,000, a provision for maximum deficit on the Canadian National Railways, will go towards employment or relief. Expenditures on works projects of all descriptions throughout the Dominion total nearly $60,000,000 with $26,000,000 for monthly relief grants in aid of the provinces.

Would be of Incalculable Value To Entire West Coastal Region

Visions of a highway which would open up a vast new territory and give motorists of this nation direct access to Alaska were conjured here yesterday by a distinguished visitor. George M. Murray, member of the British Columbia Parliament, says the San Francisco Examiner.

He declared that a project is in full swing to build approximately 500 miles of road, at an estimated cost of $5,000,000, from the town of Hazelton, B.C., to the Alaska border.

There are already good roads, he said, from the United States border to Hazelton, and money has been appropriated by this country for connecting highways in Alaska. Hazelton is about halfway between the two borders.

"The proposed Canadian highway," Murray said, "would be of incalculable value to the entire west coastal region of the continent. And there is no reason why it cannot be accomplished.

JUBILEE ON COAST

Vancouver's Celebrations Expected To Attract 1,000,000 Tourists

Varied Program Many Features Contemplated For Gala in B. C. Metropolis

VANCOUVER, April 23: (CP)—A million tourists are expected this summer to help Vancouver celebrate its Golden Jubilee.

Fifty years ago it was a scraggy settlement which was burned down almost at birth. But it put up a tent as a city hall and started to build a metropolis which has become Canada's gateway to the Pacific.

Eight hundred hours of spectacular performances in the air and on the land, carnival attractions, music, pageantry, exhibits, and sport are being worked out to fill in the weeks from the official opening on Dominion Day, July 1, until the close Sept. 7. The closing feature, the Canada Pacific Exhibition, will be inaugurated August 26 by Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor General of Canada.

Pyrotechnic displays from airplanes, searchlight tattoos, and neon fountains will make the city a fairland of light during the summer months.

Seattle to Vancouver air derby with 22 planes will feature an airpageant starting July 25, and a solo dash from Vancouver across Canada by an international air-record holder may climax the show.

"The Romance of Vancouver" will be shown in 50 brilliant scenes on a huge revolving stage for four weeks by cast of 300. Surpassing all previous efforts at outdoor staging, Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be presented amid natural surrounding in Stanley Park.

Of the Jubilee, Mayor G. G. McGeer, M.P., declared: "It is a practical opportunity not only to take pride in what we have, but to lay the foundation for a greater city—a city that, to (Continued on Page Two)

RECOVERY IN NORWAY

Jack Selvig Says Fear of War Only Thing Keeping World Back—England and Norway Prosperous

Norway is rapidly recovering from the depression, according to Jack Selvig, who recently returned from an extended visit overseas. He says that everything is busy in Oslo and other Norwegian centres. Building is going ahead rapidly—million dollar structures going up in Oslo that employ thousands of men.

Mr. Selvig said his native country was making just as rapid progress as England about which he heard from numerous visitors. All that was keeping the world back just now, Mr. Selvig said, was fear of war. Get rid of that and the purse strings in every country would loosen up and there would be general prosperity.

Man Gives Views On Modern Woman

Says Lipstick Acceptable But Condemns Painted Nails

VANCOUVER, April 23: (CP)—Men don't mind women wearing lipstick, but they do object to highly-colored finger nails, said P. G. Griffen, Vancouver tobacco salesman, while taking part in debate at a night schools speaking class.

Mr. Griffen claimed men do not object to women dieting, "provided they don't make it the chief topic of conversation."

Men dislike women who keep them waiting, and also object to going to dinner parties with women who visit every table except their own and keep their partners waiting while they dance with other men, he said.

Women who expect men to "carry a flock of gadgets" also are heartily disliked.

The speaker added men "hope to find women who have intelligence, personality and charm."

AIR SMOKER FINED

LONDON, April 23: (CP)—For smoking cigarettes in the Imperial Airways liner Heracles, between Paris and Croydon, though warned not to do so, a passenger was fined $50 and $15 costs.
