MADRID, Nov. 9: (CP)—The Spanish civil war appears to be entering a terrible climax today as the insurgent attackers advance through the suburbs from south and west following the flight of Premier Caballeros and his government to Valencia. Only the danger of ambush and surprise attacks by night prevented the rebels from entering the centre of the city proper and taking full possession of the capital late yesterday, the insurgent command stated. Fall of Madrid within twenty-four hours is expected as aerial and land
