CHURCH IS COMPLETED

Fine New Edifice at Kitkatla Estimated to Have Cost $20,000

KITKATLA, March 24.—Work preparatory to the opening of the new church at Kitkatla is now finished and an opening celebration social was held last Friday.

In 1928 a fund was opened for the projected plan. Five years later clearing was commenced. The building of the new church was turned over to G. S. Fujimoto who completed it last fall. Approaches to the building site had still to be constructed. This was undertaken by the men of the village, Mathew Hill being the foreman. The women on such occasions served meals in the hall.

The cash expense, to date, is $10,394.26, according to Medric Nelson's report.

Miss Ruth Gladstone reports that the women donated $750 worth of work while William Ridley, time-keeper, places the men's donated work at the value of $9,000. In time, improvements will be added but, as it stands, the effort of the last six years is a decided credit to the village.

Celebration Held

The people, looking back with considerable satisfaction on the effort, decided that a celebration was in order. So the Excelsior Club arranged to have a social evening last Friday. The village band was in attendance and played several selections, among which was "My Own Canadian Home," "Gates of Heaven—cantata, and "Hands Across the Sea."

The chief speakers of the evening were Mathew Hill, honorary president of the Excelsior Club, Joseph Innis, president, Henry Brown, who substituted for Gamble who is ill, Joshua Zebasha and Henry Collison. The Excelsior Club had done the work, and Mr. Hill, to indicate that their work was complete, handed the keys of the church to Mr. Collison, the people's church warden. The entertainment was concluded with the serving of cake and coffee.

The remainder of the evening was given over to reading reports which brought out some interesting data, chief of which was the fact that the villagers of Kitkatla have accomplished a piece of work which might be valued at $20,000, and that during the depression time.

Work of Women's Labor League

Mrs. Annie Stewart of Vancouver Urges Organization Here

Men and women attending a mass meeting in the Oddfellows' Hall Sunday night had explained to them how a Women's Labor League should function and the benefits to be obtained when men and women in unity strive for a better living. Mrs. Annie Stewart, the district organizer, stressed that the women of Prince Rupert have more to gain by organization, than perhaps in any part of B.C.

It was declared that the relief paid in this town was less than in Vancouver with no clothing allowance. Women were also asked to work for relief. After listening attentively to the speaker, many interesting and educative questions were asked by the audience.

At the close of the meeting all interested were invited to attend a business meeting tonight when election of officers will take place.

Mrs. O. L. Kendall, wife of a well known Juneau clergyman, was a passenger aboard the Princess Norah yesterday afternoon going through on a trip to Seattle.

JIM BRADY BIOGRAPHY

"Diamond Jim" is Outstanding Picture—Edmund Lowe in "The Great Impersonation"

"Diamond Jim," a colorful, romantic screen biography of James Buchanan Brady, the shrewd capitalist and gem-collecting Broadway playboy of the Gay Nineties, is the first of the week feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre. More dramatic than some of the flights of fiction it is said to be the true history of this Irish saloon keeper's son who became one of the wealthiest and most picturesque figures of the night life of New York in his day. As is well known "Diamond Jim" was the friend of everybody—bank presidents, railroad magnates, philanthropists, celebrated doctors, lawyers and merchants, chorus girls, prize-fighters, policemen, newsboys and day laborers. Edward Arnold plays the title role while Binnie Barnes and Jean Arthur have the principal feminine parts.

The other end of the first of the week double bill is the screen dramatization of E. Phillips Oppenheim's famous novel "The Great Impersonation" with Edmund Lowe in the leading role. Revelations concerning the machinations of international salesmen of war materials and their efforts to prolong the war form a vital part of the plot.

Frank Dibb, secretary of the Prince Rupert Horticultural Society, has received word from the publicity commissioner for Victoria that he will send a set of slides of Victoria gardens to be shown at the annual dinner of the society on April 14.
