Board For Coming Year Appointed -Flood Damage is Repaired

USK, Dec. 1:-Aat a recen meeting of the Marsh Memoria' Church, Usk, the Church Board for the coming year was appointed; The officers are:

President, James R. Wilson. Vice-President, Mrs. W. Duncan Secretary - Treasurer, Mrs. E.

Whitlow. Trustee, Percy R. Skinner. Skinner, Mrs. Bethuren, Mrs.

Drake and Capt. J. Willman. The church, which was damaged in the flood last spring, has been re-decorated. A new organ, pulpit and chairs have been installed and the building looks even better than it did before its inundation by the waters of the Skeena.

Plans were drawn up for a fortnightly service to be conducted on Friday evenings by the Terrace ministers, Rev. Adam Crisp and Rev. C. A. Hinchcliffe.

this day whom ye will serve." The problems facing Joshua were greater than those that confronted Moses. Moses could go to the slaves in Egypt and hold out to them the hope of becoming freemen. The very thought of freedom was most powerful in arousing them to action. He could hold out the idea to them of becoming a nation and this again stirred their those of reconstruction. It was easier to get money for war than for peaceful pursuits. Joshua had his returned soldier problem and ne selected certain men as elders, udges and captains, discussing with them the problems of reconstruction. He recounted to them the story of their own people, how Reorganized God had brought them out of Egypt, through the Red Sea and the wilderness and across the Jordan and had fulfilled all the promises made to their fathers. Joshua then asked: "What are you going to do for Him?" And they repied: 'We will serve the Lord."

Joshua put God first in national life. The greatest need today was more religion in national life. There was little evidence of it in state functions, in Armistice Day parades, in schools and in municipal councils. The Governor Gen-Other members of the board are eral was a noble exception.
