A TREMENDOUS PROBLEM

At the recent good roads convention the deputy minister of public works for British Columbia told the delegates something of the enormous job the government has on hand in trying to rehabilitate the highway system. Most of the southern highways need surfacing and a system something like that employed in Prince Rupert has been adopted. Then there was a huge mileage of gravelled roads that were out of repair and the whole length had to be either resurfaced or repaired costing at least a million dollars. In spite of this, there remained very much to be done. On some of the highways the Dominion Government has shared the cost, making it possible to do more than would have been the case if the whole burden had been thrown on the province. Many bridges have had to be built or rebuilt.

In the past twelve years the number of British Columbia cars has doubled and in addition there has been the large increase in the number of American visitors who have brought their big high-powered cars with them. The large increase in the number of heavy motor trucks has played havoc with the roads everywhere, adding to the expense of upkeep. As the roadbeds become settled and the widening schemes completed, the cost of repairs will become less, except such as is the result of ever increasing traffic. If the present work is kept up for another year or two the system should be tremendously improved. But new roads are needed. As Mr. Dixon points out there is a road to the Peace River and another to Prince Rupert that must be completed and every mile of new road means additional cost of upkeep. When the system is improved the number of visitors from the south will increase so that the construction and upkeep of highways will be a very large problem for many years to come.

FORTY THIEVES

The official organ of the C.C.F. stigmatizes the delegates to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce as "The Forty Thieves" because they have made money as result of their activities. It ridicules them because they have fine cars and live at first class hotels.

While we must admit that some industrialists have adopted sweat shop methods in connection with their undertakings, we also feel that most of the men represented at the convention are heads of concerns that employ thousands of men and women at a high rate of wages, so high that it is with difficulty that concerns pay any profit on the investment. One instance of this is the Canadian Pacific Railway which is presided over by Sir Edward Beatty. We might remind our C.C.F. friends that in the republic which so many of them worship, that of Russia, there is growing up an aristocracy of wealth very similar to that in capitalistic countries. Highly paid officials of the Soviet travel around in high-powered cars just as they do here and are just as exclusive and high-handed as any bloated capitalist in Canada or the United States. At the same time there is greater poverty and degradation in the Soviet republics than anything Vancouver or Prince Rupert or even Montreal has ever seen. Changing a system does not change human nature.

REPORTS UNFOUNDED

Editor, Daily News:
Children were seated on chairs at the Booth School on Sept. 7. Since that time, some of these children were transferred to Seal Cove.

At this school, one teacher attempts to teach two grades in one room.

Section Two has a school which has been idle for some time and many tots have to tramp to Borden Street School.

However we are pleased to hear from the Commissioner that these reports are unfounded.

Concessions

The taxpayers are to be given the opportunity some time this month of approving certain Concessions to be granted over a period of years to a private industry.

Will the Commissioner, through the press, before the plebiscite is taken, state the nature of these concessions?

What bond or undertaking is offered for such concessions?

Will representatives of the proposed industry be available to answer any questions pertaining to same?

We feel that the taxpayers should know what they are going to vote for.

The Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council.

T. ELLIOTT.
