GETTING IT RIGHT

Last week this paper published a little item about two For Vancouveror three local people and their movements and it was incorrect. This little gossip item had been corrected no less than three times before it went to press, each time being changed to accord with the views of three different people in regard to the subject matter, and even then it was not correct. That illustrates one of the difficulties! in newspaper publishing.

There is an old story told of a publisher in a western mining town in the old days. A tough guy with a drooping mustache, ten gallon hat and two pistols, stamped into the newspaper office and demanded of the busy little man at the desk who was running that blankety blank newspaper. "I am," said the little man without looking up. "Well then," said the visitor, "perhaps you are the guy that wrote that article saying that William H. For Anyox and Stewart-Mudge is an ex-jail bird, a counterfeiter, blackmailer, gunman, kidnapper and desperado, eh?" Again without looking up the little man said "Sure, I'm the fellow, what about it?" "Well just this," said the man of shady reputation, "I'll have you understand that I am William K. For Naas River and Port Simpson- ball Association. and not William H. Mudge and by blankety blank if you have got anything further to say about me I'll thank you to get my name straight. Good day."

GIVE THEM A CHANCE

At the week end the managers of the British tennis From Ocean Fallsteam that met the Americans for the Davis Cup at Wimbledon decided that the American crack player must be allowed to win the first round so he would meet his only worthy opponent, Bunny Austin, in the second round. For Queen Charlotte Islands-They put up a young lad who had been playing well but with no expectation that he would make a showing against the western ace. What was their surprise and the surprise of everybody at Wimbledon to see this lad, Charles Hare, hold down the American in the first set and give him the scare of his life. He stole the show on the first day's tennis play although he was finally beaten. From now on Hare will be a force to be reckoned with in tennis circles. He was given a chance and he made good.

Many a young man could make good if he were given a chance to do so. That is as true in business as in sport and in fact in all walks of life.

PATCHED UP DISPUTE

The dispute between British and American golf players has been patched up but it still leaves a nasty taste in the mouth. It will be several years before the players on either side or the sport-loving public will feel just the same as before. Those unpleasant remarks made by the American players on their return from winning the cup cannot be recalled. They brought forth unpleasant retorts which will also rankle in the minds of American sportsmen.

If you have something to sell, a classified advertisement in this paper will soon let you know if there is a buyer in the city.

Man in the Moon

Good day. Its beastly hot!

The weather man's the goat Tho' the day be fine or wet He never is able to satisfy The people who fume and fret

They curse if there's too much sunshine

They curse if its too wet They curse if the wind is blowing They all love to curse and fret.

It was a good idea to bring the circus to town at a time when everybody was out of town except those who were dead broke.

Jake says he has had to borrow money every day since the show arrived to find out what sort of weather we were going to have and who he was going to marry when his wife died. Now he is beginning to wonder if the Egptian Prince is telling the truth.

"What's the difference between learning to play golf and learning to drive a car?"

"In learning how to play golf you don't hit anything."

Someone wrote to Mary Lemon and asked for instruction in the writing of funny paragraphs. Lemon replied: "It is not at all hard to write funny paragraphs. All you have to do is to procure a pen, some paper, and ink, and then sit down and write them as they occur to you. It is not the writing, but the occurring that is
