Inconvenience and Danger

The busmen's strike in London at Coronation time creates a situation not only of much inconvenience to the great metropolis at a time when it is crowded with visitors for the epochal celebration and pageant but it is also a source of danger. Under the best of normal traffic conditions in London, it would have been congested and complicated enough but to have the city's thoroughfares demoralized and disorganized with all manner of emergency means of transportation co-mingling with millions of people forced to walk who would otherwise ride will make it many times worse. It will make the situation an unwieldy and uncertain one for the police authorities who had already been making plans for extra vigilance on and around May 12. It is even conceivable that the Coronation might have to be postponed although the chances are against such an eventuality.

A Political Anomoly

Although overwhelmingly repudiated by the people at the polls, the government of Premier Senjure Hayashi in Japan, it is intimated by dispatches, may not relinquish power. Such hesitation would be inconceivable in most of the countries of the world. To disregard minorities often leads to trouble. But to flout the will of the large majority would, undoubtedly, involve to serious difficulties. If Hayashi remains obdurate, internal strife in Japan may be certainly expected.

Foreign policy was an important issue in the election campaign and, for that reason, the outcome of the present political crisis in the Flowery Kingdom will be followed with much interest by the world at large.

De Valera's Decree

President Eamonn de Valera has declared a new constitution for "all Ireland." Apparently, it is a further step in the direction of complete independence. Possibly, it means little more than has been going on in the Irish Free State ever since de Valera took over control there. To all intents and purposes, Ireland is already as "free" as any Irishman would like.

We do not imagine that the Mother Country or the rest of the Empire have much to worry about in this latest gesture of "independence" which we note is to be offered for ratification at a general election late in June. It will make complete independence from Great Britain, which the Irish already practically have, the more or less elusive issue in the election. Probably that is all it is meant to be.

BANQUET TO GRADUATES

Staff of King Edward High School Hosts Saturday Evening

On Saturday evening the staff of King Edward High School honored the graduating class of 1937 with a banquet, followed by a dance, at the Knox Hotel. There were forty present including several ex-graduates of former years.

Dr. E. E. Lucas welcomed the guests and proposed the toast to the King. T. W. Hall, school inspector, spoke briefly to the graduating class and Miss Honorah Silversides replied to his toast. Joe Landrey proposed the toast to the teachers and Nelson Allen replied to it. June Armour read the individual class report and Ellen Moore read the class history.

After the dinner, a group picture was taken of the entire class and class teacher. Mr. Allen. Dancing was then begun and continued until midnight. Music was by C. P. Balagno. During the evening, Betty Wood sang "Brown Birds" and "Rose in the Bud."

The committee in charge consisted of Mr. Allen, Miss Adele Mussallem and Bob Elkins.

The hall was tastefully decorated in green and gold, the school colors, those in charge being Mrs. Nelson Allen and Hiro Yamanaka.

The evening was brought to a close at midnight by the singing of the National Anthem.

First Summery Day is Enjoyed

Fine Sunday Drew Everbody Outdoors in Prince Rupert

Prince Rupert enjoyed its first real summery day yesterday. Clear skies and warm sunshine attracted almost everybody outdoors. Many took to the water for cruises and picnics. It was an ideal day for the Prince Rupert Tennis Club's opening tournment of the season on the Acropolis Hill courts. Many took advantage of the opportunity to institute "Clean-up Week."

It thickened up in the west last evening and there was a change last night with clouds today.

The warm weather was general throughout the west yesterday. It was 68 above in Vancouver and 86 in Kamloops and Los Angeles.

SOCIAL CREDIT PREMATURE

Editor, Daily News:

I see my name appearing in your paper as a possible candidate for election as a member of the Social Credit party. That is a bit premature. It is true I have been asked to run but I am replying to the Vancouver headquarters that the idea is premature in my opinion so far as Skeena riding is concerned. The best we can do at Terrace at the moment is to start a study group which we hope will attract all men and women who are serious in their political enquiries and who are desirious of learning.

Tennis Club Opens Season

Mrs. W. L. Stamford and Otto C. Young Winners of First Tournament

With ideal weather prevailing, the Prince Rupert Tennis Club got the season off to a good start at the Acropolis Hill courts yesterday with the playing of an American tournament in which the winners were Mrs. W. L. Stamford and Otto C. Young. The other finallists were Mrs. Geoff Willett and Col. J. W. Nicholls and Miss Elsie Davis and L. H. Haworth.

Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. W. N. Currie.

PRINCESS POPULAR

nine optimists hopeful of getting a glimpse of the small white bundle which held the fourth lady in the land.

She was only eight months old when her parents embarked on the Australasian tour and it is doubtful if returning parents ever brought a child such an extraordinary collection of gifts—canaries, squawking parrots, and three tons of toys. The care of the baby was undertaken affectionately during their absence by Queen Mary.

Queen Mary desired that her infant grand-daughter should be reared on the simplest lines possible and it was unfortunate in this respect that from her babyhood the interest displayed in little Elizabeth's personality should thwart these aims. London was captivated by the baby with blue eyes and golden hair; excursions in the pram to Kensington Gardens had to be abandoned because of the crowds of admirers.

On August 21, 1930, a sister was born to Elizabeth, at Glamis Castle, the chief home of Queen Elizabeth's parents. To Margaret Rose, called "the most perfect of her playthings," Elizabeth has always been the most affectionate and protective elder sister imaginable.

To Be Home-Trained

The princess will be brought up at home and although the King and Queen have now moved into Buckingham Palace from 145 Piccadilly, arrangements have been made there for the same daily life of the small princesses. The larger grounds, of course, give opportunities for pony-riding and other such diversions on an extensive scale. As for book-learning there is no set pattern. The children will be encouraged to follow their instinctive leanings, within reasonable limits.

So far the little girls have received most of their teaching direct from their mother. In languages, it is understood Elizabeth has made rapid progress—her mother could speak French as readily as English when she was only 10—but in music or drawing they are not particularly talented.

Both children are intensely fond of domestic animals, Elizabeth's special pets being two Welsh corgis named Janie and Dookie. They have a large doll's house and like any other children get a great deal of satisfaction in looking after it. Princess Elizabeth ha salso shown special aptitude for a camera.

Timely Recipes

SPRING FOODS

As styles in clothing change with the approach of spring, so lighter foods are favored to suit the appetite which accompanies warmer weather. What might be termed substantial supper dishes, which are so satisfying during the winter months, are replaced at this time of year by others, more spring-like as it were, yet just as nourishing. Steamed puddings and similar desserts are neglected in favor of lighter dishes of milk and fruit, which can be made very appetizing.

Welsh Rarebit

One tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup rich milk or cream, 2 cups grated cheese, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon mustard, few grains cayenne, 1 egg.

Make a sauce of butter, flour and milk. Add grated cheese and seasonings. Pour some of hot sauce over beaten egg. Return to double boiler and cook a minute or two. Delicious poured over freshly cooked asparagus and served on toast.

HIGH WINS IN SOCCER

Defeated Borden Street 4 to 1 Saturday Afternoon

King Edward High School was again victorious in the Junior Football League on Saturday by defeating the Borden Street School team by a score of 4 to 1.

High School's first goal came from a penalty shot which McKay converted. Shorty before half-time Kihara added a second goal.

Borden pressed in the second half and, after a clever run by Wong, Alan Smith scored for Borden. Long was soon called upon to save from Schubert. The High School defence cleared and a well-placed shot by Holkestad beat Mah. Borden continued to press but could not score. Holkestad got away again and centred well into the Borden goal and Judge added a fourth goal for High School.

Full time score was: High School, 4; Borden, 1.

Teams were:

Borden Street School—Mah Bird, McLeod; Robertson, G. Smith, Byrne; Wong, A. Smith Schubert, Bill, Fong.

High School—Long; Beynon, Husoy; Cook, Scherk, Bussey; Kihara, Judge, McKay, Baker, Holkestad.
