READY TO CRUSH ANY UPRISING AGAINST PALESTINE SPLIT

An impressive array of British military might, photographed with an old fortress for a background outside Jeruselm. These are some of the men commanded by Lieut.-General John G. Dill, who is ready to clamp martial law upon the Holy Land at the first sign of an outbreak of fighting between the Jewish and Arab populations. Such an outbreak is feared as the result of the resentment aroused by the recommendations of the British Royal Commission that Palestine be divided into separate Jewish and Arab sections, which would be divided by a British neautral zone. Neither Arabs nor Jews want such partition.
