NEW HOMES FOR PRAIRIE FARMERS

There are many districts in the drought areas of Saskatchewan and Alberta where the inhabitants are going to be obliged to move out. There are many districts in British Columbia where the government owns good land that is not occupied and will not be occupied for many years under ordinary conditions. It should be the duty of the governments concerned to get together on some kind of an arrangement whereby these people can be transplanted to locations where they have some hope for the future. It is by no fault of their own that they are obliged to leave their lands and buildings and move into a new country without enough means to get improved lands. Even if they had some funds, it would be considered hardship for them in getting started in a new land. They should, therefore, be given new land in their new location and also given some assistance in getting started. The country will be repaid many fold in a few years by the result of the business that will come from having these experienced and industrious people in a happy and satisfied frame of mind and in prosperous circumstances.

It is suggested that it might even be a good idea for the government to gather up a lot of the discontents of this province and plant them in Saskatchewan and Alberta until they have time to figure out what complaints they really have in living in the best province in the Dominion of Canada.

Some of the dried out farmers have been investigating conditions in Central British Columbia. Possibly this would be the best available location for re-settlement of these people who have been unfortunate enough to choose wrong locations in the arid southern section of the Canadian prairies.

GOOD WORK OF YOUNG RANGERS

One of the chief features of the welcome to Lord Tweedsmuir at Burns Lake was his initiation into honorary membership in the Young Rangers, an organization of young people banded together to prevent and fight fires in the forest sections of the country. It is a secret organization with all the usual paraphernalia connected therewith but with the one definite object above all others. In a country which is dry during much of the summer and where fires are a distinct danger to the whole community, such an organization can prove very useful and the idea might well be adopted at other similar localities.

CHAMPION OF WORLD

Sergeant Robert Pickrell, No. 1 Revolver Shot, Visitor in City Attached to Governor General's Train

Attached to the vice-regal train which is here awaiting Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor General of Canada, and his party who will arrive next week-end from Tweedsmuir Park on their way back to Ottawa, Sergeant Robert G. Pickrell of Winnipeg, world's champion revolver shot and a member of the investigation department of the Canadian National Railways, is an interesting visitor in Prince Rupert.

Sergeant Pickrell won title of the world No. 1 revolver marksman in Rome two years ago. He also has won thousands of other titles and trophies. He is also a crack rifle shot and was once a first-class air pilot. He spurns automatics and always uses one of his fifty odd revolvers. He has grey steady eyes, stands six feet or more in height and says that constant practice is one of the principal secrets of being a champion marksman. He does not believe in any fancy diet for the nerves but eats, drinks and smokes moderately.

Sergeant Pickrell was among the guests at today's luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club. Next Wednesday he will give a talk and demonstration before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at its regular weekly luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jones and daughter, Helen, are leaving on Friday for the east after having spent a holiday visiting here for the week with Mrs. Mabel Thomson.

SPORT CHAT

With the New York Yankees out on top eleven games ahead of the running up Detroit Tigers, the American League pennant race appears to be just about settled for 1937. Who will be the National League winners, however, is still very much in doubt between the Chicago Cubs and the New York Giants who are now separated by a scant two games. St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates are also still both in the running in the National League for the privilege of bringing up the rear between the Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis. As a result of a bad slump during the past few days, the Boston Red Sox have dropped from second place in the American League to fourth below the Detroit Tigers and Chicago White Sox.
