Bernice Palmer says . . .

Well the rabbit experiment hasn't turned out much of a success. For all my work and devotion, only one is still living and, like his namesake, Halle Selassie, looks most forlorn. Next time I shall let nature take care of her own business. After all, her methods are older than mine. And another thing, now that Selassie is going on two weeks old and bids fair to live to maturity, what are we going to do with him? We could never enjoy eating a rabbit raised by hand on an eyedropper, nor would we have the heart to sell him. It is all very confusing. And the superiority of Mrs. Longears. She just sniffs every time I look at her family (three times the size of mine) as much as to say, "I know you couldn't do anything about it."

After three days of heavy showers, it has at last cleared up but is so cold it is hard to decide which was worse. You see, deceived by a week of near tropic weather, everyone removed the stoves that had been used during the winter, glad at last California weather had come into her own. And now look. It reminds me of old Pat Carey who used to be watchman in the early days on the G. T. P. wharf. He used to say he never did see why people wanted to leave Prince Rupert for a change when they could have more different kinds of weather right where they were in one week, than any other city could offer in a year. That about sums up the situation here. CHEERIO!

DERBY WAS RUN TODAY

Victory of Midday Sun Brings Fortune of $80,800 to New Westminster Man

EPSOM DOWNS, Eng., June 2: (CP)—Mrs. G. B. Miller's Midday Sun today won the 158th running of the Derby. Mrs. F. Nagle's Sandspite was second and the Aga Khan's Le Grand Duc third. The win for Midday Sun meant a small fortune for C. J. Pincus of New Westminster who held an Irish Sweepstake ticket on that horse. He will receive $80,800 owing to the fact that he sold half interest to a New York syndicate.

PATTULLO GOVERNMENT IS RETURNED

Gordon Sloan to the British Columbia Court of Appeals, will hand it over to the Vancouver barrister.

H. G. Perry, Speaker in the last Legislature, won out with a 200 majority in Fort George after early returns had placed him behind his C.C.F. opponent, John McInnis.

Cariboo riding returned the bearded Louis Lebourdais, known as "The Cariboo historian" for his colorful portrayal in letters of the fastly reviving gold mining country.

Edward Lipsett arrived in the city on the PrinceRupert this morning from Vancouver to pay one of his periodical visits to his local business.

TERRACE

On election day everybody was seen in town at least once in the day. Settlers who seldom come, prospectors from distant claims, all were here. The vote was: Kenney 272, Doney 135.

A fire alarm Monday caused plenty of excitement. All the cars and the crews from the sawmills went to put it out. There was not much damage. It was a smoke house behind Mr. West's and some outbuildings burned with it.
