"Prince and Pauper" at Capitol Theatre as Week-End Feature Offering

History, romance and adventure are combined in the film version of Mark Twain's immortal "The Prince and the Pauper" which comes to the Capitol Theatre as the feature offering at the end of this week. The well known story is that of two babies born in London at the same moment in the the Sixteenth Century-one the young Prince Edward, heir to the throne, and the other Tom Canty, the brat of a ruffian and thief. Their lives become tangled up because they look exactly alike. Billy and Bobby Mauch of Peoria, Illinois, play the parts of the boys.

All the color and drama of Sixteenth Century England is brought to life on the screen and a dram- Prince George and left immediin which the pauper boy, who has she will join her parents, Mr. exchanged identities with the and Mrs. Jack Frew, who are Prince is almost crowned King of holidaying there.
