Betty Lowman Coming Again

Girl Canoeist Will Be Here South bound Aboard Cannery Tender

Betty Annette Lowman, girl canoeist, who passed through the city about a month ago in the course of her long paddling trip from Seattle to Ketchikan, will be here again within the next few days going south with her father aboard the Ketchikan cannery tender Nina Mae In a letter to the Daily News office Miss Lowman expresses appreciation of many kindnesses which were extended her while she rested in Prince Rupert on the way north. She will long remember, she says, the hospitality and generosity of the people of Prince Rupert in entertaining and assisting her.
