Xmas Pageant Is Impressive

Nativity Depicted at First Presbyterian Church Sunday Night

An impressive pageant depicting the Nativity was the feature of the evening service at First Presbyterian Church on Sunday. Under the direction of the pastor, it was presented along simple lines from a darkened stage with projected lighting effects. Periodic costumes were worn by the principals who were John and Bertie O'Neill, Jack Storrer, Allan Kerwin, Miss Helen Lokie and Miss Winnie Cameron. The scenes were interpolated with appropriate music by the Senior Choir with Mrs. H. N. Brocklesby, Mrs. J. H. Carson, Miss Molly Frew and J. A. Tene as soloists. Mrs. E. J. Smith played the organ accompaniments and Miss Nellie Lawrence assisted with the violin. There was a large congregation which practically filled the church.
