FILMS FOR HOLIDAYS

"Emperor's Candlesticks" This Week-End and "Day at Races" At First of Week

With the lavish "Emperor's Candlesticks," featuring William Powell and Luise Rainer, billed for tonight and Saturday and the latest Marx Brothers' comedy "A Day at the Races" coming on Monday and Tuesday, the Capitol Theatre is offering splendid entertainment for its patrons over the long holiday week-end.

"The Emperor's Candlesticks," based upon the novel by Baroness Orczy, is a story of spy intrigue that races across Europe at a fast pace. The romance starts in Vienna after the kidnapping of the last of the Russian Czars when he was a man of twenty. Powell plays the part of a Socialist who hates Russia and who is commissioned to carry a message offering exchange of the Czarevitch for the release of socialist prisoners. Miss Rainer is a secret agent for the Russian police. Papers are hidden in candlesticks and the story resolves into an exciting race between these two for the candlesticks which are stolen by thieves who do not know of the papers within them. The supporting cast includes such notables as Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Morgan and Henry Stephenson. Between shows tonight the drawing in a raffle of a rund trip to Vancouver by Queen Mary Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, will take place.

The uproarious comedy of "A Day at the Races," opening with a preview at midnight Sunday, shifts from a sanitarium to a race track. Groucho Marx is a horse doctor, Harpo a jockey and Chico a salesman of bum tips. Maureen and the singing Allan Jones are teamed in the supporting cast.

The Capitol Theatre will have special matinees every day next week.
