DILATORY CITY

Took Too Long to Come to Scrap With Strikers.

"I don't claim we gave adequate police protection, but I do claim that we did all that was possible under circumstances," said City Solicitor Peters yesterday. "We did all we could peaceably and when we had to fight we fought." "It took an awful time for you to come to it—six weeks," said the Judge.

DOESN'T VEX PETERS

Even if Watson Lost Million Dollars Over Contract.

"Has Watson made anything on his contract?" asked Mr. Williams, examining Thomas McClymont, bookkeeper to Watson Bros., in the city case yesterday. "It doesn't matter what he has lost," said City Solicitor Peters. "I object to the question. I don't care if he has lost a million dollars."

The question was disallowed as irrelevant.

LEGAL LIMITS WANTED

A Time Limit on the Lawyers Is Suggested by the Court.

"There ought to be a time limit on cases," said City Solicitor Peters with a long drawn sigh as Mr. Williams' examination of City Clerk Woods on a question of contract time limits grew prolonged yesterday afternoon.

"The Court will retort by putting a time limit on counsel," said the Judge.

"It's the same thing, your lordship," remarked Mr. Peters.

THE WAY OF AN OCTOPUS

Will Canada Stand for the Exploitation of Her Timber and Natural Resources as the States Have Done?

Charles Edward Russell has made for the Cosmopolitan a thorough investigation of lumber trust methods—he has followed the slippery trail of the lumber octopus literally from coast to coast—and he has the "goods." You will be surprised at his revelations—that the tremendous power of the trust, its brazen indifference to all but its own interests, its hold upon legislators, its highway methods of national pocket picking. It will be a great series of articles—vitally interesting to every one who has ever bought any part of a tree. The first article will appear in January. Subscriptions to Cosmopolitan will be accepted until December 10th at the special low rate to Canada of $1.50. Cosmopolitan Agency, box 851, Winnipeg.
